'AUTOCRACY MUST GO'—WILSON; GREATEST WAR DRIVE STARTS

ATROCITIES MUST STOP FIRST, SAYS PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today informed Germany that the only condition upon which an armistice can be granted is that atrocities on land and sea must cease.

The text of the President's answer follows:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the Reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th of January, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses, justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The President feels that it is is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as belligerent will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain not 'only, but often of their very inhabitants.

"The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted.

"It is contained in the address of the President delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last.

"It is as follows: 'The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotentcy.' The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort he described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The President's words just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond a peradventure with whom they are dealing.

"The President will make a separate reply to the Royal and Imperial government of Austria-Hungary.

"Accept, Sir, the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

(Signed "LANSING."

Official Bulletin
Fourth Liberty Loan

At this great crisis of the war the people of Oakland are asking—and they are entitled to know—why Oakland is failing in her subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Thousands of loyal citizens have made a conscientious effort to do their full duty. Hundreds of wealthy individuals have failed in this. Such individuals have been duly notified of what is expected of them. Some have cheerfully complied by subscribing the amount alloted to them. Others have either refused or failed to comply with the judgment of the allotment committee, rendered after a fair and full hearing of all facts submitted.

Therefore, the allotment committee has decided to publish the names of persons, who, for reasons considered insufficient, have not purchased bonds in the amount of their allotment.

In all cases of publication the details of the committee's investigation will be given, together with a statement of reason on the part of the individual.

Allies Guard Against Trickery of Enemy; Max Reported Out

PARIS, Oct. 14, 12:05 p. m.—France is unanimously determined not to negotiate with Germany until the latter's power to do harm is completely ended, it was semi-officially announced today.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 14.—While developments are taking place, the Central News agency says it learns, it can be said, that the British government will resolutely oppose the granting of any armistice to Germany unless absolute guarantees both military and naval are forthcoming.

"It is not the first time the Germans have erroneously assumed that President Wilson does not understand the people with which he is dealing. But President Wilson knows the enemy as well as do the allies. Germany's design is to first create dissension between the United States and the allies. If Dr. Solf can get the allies and America to talking, he will have achieved the purpose for which he and Prince Maximilian were appointed."

The Chronicle says that no peace discussion is possible without a final cessation of fighting. Under the caption "Temporary Armistice Inadmissable," the paper says:

"We must insist upon such terms as will virtually disarm the Central powers. We cannot contemplate Germany withdrawing her armies intact, reconstituting them on shorter lines and then rattling the sword again at the peace conference."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Turkey, through the Spanish ambassador, has asked President Wilson to use his efforts to restore peace between it and the entente allies. The note was delivered to Secretary Lansing at noon today by the Spanish ambassador. It is brief and stated that Turkey accepts as a basis for peace the program laid down by the President in his address to Congress on January 8 and his subsequent declarations on the subject.

The Turkish appeal is for a general peace conference and was delivered by the charge d'affaires of Turkey in Madrid to the Spanish minister of foreign affairs. The latter transmitted it to Ambassador Riano in this city, who today delivered it to the secretary of state. The official announcement of the state department regarding the matter was as follows:

"The Spanish ambassador handed the following communication to the secretary of state today to be delivered to the President:

"'Embajada de Espanza, Washington, October 14, 1918.

"'Mr. President:

"'I have the honor to transmit

OVER 1000 PERISH IN NORTHERN WOODS FIRE

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 14. — The forest fires, which have taken a death toll in Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin estimated at over a thousand, making 40,000 homeless, of whom 15,000 are destitute, are receding in their fierceness today, last reports being that everywhere they are being brought under control.

In the Moose Lake district alone fatalities are estimated at 400, while in other devastated sections figures bring the total to more than a thousand. Property loss is roughly placed at $100,000,000.

Nearly 200 bodies have already been brought to this city, which has been made the objective of thousands of fleeing refugees. Rescue parties and companies of home guards, fighting the flames, report that charred bodies are strewn along the roads leading through the devastated regions.

The ruin in the wake of the five separate fires which were raging in two States includes the total destruction of fourteen towns, among them Cloqut, Brookston, Brevator, Corona, Adolph, Thompson, Arnold, Moose Lake, Kettle River, Twig and Rice Lake. In the ashes of these towns many bodies have been reported.

SEARCH FOR BODIES IN EXTENDED AREA

The area burned over by the flames is estimated at 80 by 100 miles, and through this region today Adjutant-General W. F. Rhinow, of St. Paul, in charge of this rescue and relief work, has ordered motor truck companies to search for bodies. The general has also ordered hundreds of coffins shipped to Moose Lake, from which destroyed town he is directing his operations. Duluth is the scene today of thousands of homeless persons seeking aid and comfort. Hundreds were brought in during the night by trains and automobiles, while hundreds of others, forced to abandon their autos and wagons on the road, came into the city on foot. Most of the refugees are women and children, many of the former carrying babies in arms and tugging after them frightened, weary toddlers.

DULUTH BELIEVED SAFE FROM DESTRUCTION

Duluth itself is believed safe from destruction, although several buildings were destroyed. Property damage in the vicinity is placed at many hundred thousand dollars. The wind which was driving the fire into the city has died down and the fire is under control.

Superior is also reported out of danger of destruction. The shipyards of this city were threatened earlier.

Details of the horrors accompanying the hurrican-like torrents of the flame which drove the unprepared thousands from their homes are being brought to the city by the refugees. Stories of women throwing themselves into lakes and rivers en route, to escape the torture of the fire, are among the details told. Many of those who themselves escaped are seeking in vain for their families.

MOOSE LAKE, Minn., Oct. 14.—Working under the personal direction of Governor Burnquist and Adjutant-General W. F. Rhinow, every uninjured man and woman in this stricken community searched the blackened pine woods today for forest fire victims.

State of Seige Obtains in Portugal

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 14.—The Portuguese government has declared a state of siege for all Portuguese territory. The president as commander-in-chief of the military and naval units has taken direct command of the forces. Tranquility reigns in the country.

EVACUATION OF FORTY ALSATIAN TOWNS ON

(By Agence Radio to International News Service)

ROME, Oct. 14.—Germany has ordered the evacuation of the inhabitants of over forty Alsatian towns between the Swiss frontier and Solmar, it was reported by correspondents on the Swiss frontier today.

Among the towns which the civil population is to abandon are Mulhausen, Colmar and Altkirch.

American troops are facing the Germans on the Alsatian frontier.

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 14.—Heavy German attacks east of the Argonne early today were broken up by American counter-attacks.

The Americans met the Boches midway between the two lines, wielding the bayonet and tearing the enemy waves to shreds.

The German attack had been preceded by a heavy barrage, but the American artillery silenced the enemy guns, leaving their infantry without protection.

Later the American infantry went forward and began clearing out enemy machine gun nests in the regions of Romagne, Cunel and Sommerance.

An intense artillery battle is raging between the Aire and the Meuse. It continued throughout the night and was growing in violence this morning.

The American guns apparently dominated the situation. The solid mass of machine gun nests, which oppose our advance between the two rivers, was rapidly being blasted to bits.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Strong and repeated enemy counter-attacks on the both sides of the Meuse Sunday were broken by American forces, General Pershing reported today.

"On both sides of the Meuse, our troops today (Sunday) broke up strong and repeated attempts of the enemy to dislodge them from their recently won positions," the communique said.

"American divisions continued to participate in the successful operations under command of the British south of Le Cateau and of the French in the Champagne. At other points held by our troops, there is nothing of importance to report."

'DEVILS' DANCE FLOOR' UPSET; INJURES EIGHT

ONTARIO, Cal., Oct. 14.—Eight persons were seriously injured here today when a Yellow Line interurban auto bus, driven by J. O. Bryan, skidded on "The Devil's Dance Floor," west of here, rolling completely over twice.

Nineteen persons were in the bus.

Passing automobiles picked up the injured and took them to a hospital in Pomona.

It Looks Good for America These Days

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—"Everything looks good for America these days," declared Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo today on his arrival from Chicago. Secretary McAdoo went direc to the White House, where it is assumed that he talked over the German note with the President.

Premier Clemenceau Is Again at Front

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Premier Clemenceau has been at the front for the last 48 hours.

British and Belgians Open Big Flanders Drive; 90,000 Taken in Balkans

WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN FLANDERS, Oct. 14—(By the Associated Press)—British, Belgian and French forces attacked at dawn this morning on a wide front in Flanders. The allied troops are driving in the general direction of Ghent and Courtrai.

The attacks seem to be generally from Comines to the northward. The troops of the three nations went over the top after a "crash" bombardment only. There was no preliminary bombardment. It undoubtedly gave the enemy a surprise tactically.

Every foot of ground gained here also deepens the Lille salient and success means that the enemy will be obliged to evacuate the region to the south as well as to the north of the front attacked. The attack would have been launched before now had the ground been ready.

In the British formation were some of Great Britain's best troops and the forces of the French were of famous fighting organizations. The Germans appear prepared to retire to the Ghent line.

By the fury with which the attack was launched it is evident that the fighting armies are not paying the slightest attention to the "peace" talk. They smashed forward with all the dash characterizing the recent operations.

The blow in Flanders may prove to be Marshal Haig's master stroke. If the allied progress is continued the Germans throughout a wide stretch of territory, taking in the most important part of the Belgian coast, including possibly the important German submarine bases, as well as the forces in the entire Lille salient either will have to get out or face a second Sedan.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—The French are swiftly following up the German retreat along the eighty-mile front between La Fere and the Argonne region.

The whole Laon front, following evacuation of the St. Gobain massif, is crumbling. The French have captured a dozen additional villages. The railways leading from these are intact and great masses of shells and other war material have been seized.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—In the attack in Flanders today the French took 3000 prisoners.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Ninety thousand Austro-Germans and Bulgarian prisoners have been captured in the offensive which opened on the Balkan front one month ago, it was announced at the Serbian legation today.

The Austro-Germans are falling back on Alexinate, nearly twenty miles north of Nish. The Serbians have captured Prokuplje, nineteen miles west of Nish.

The French are advancing on the Montenegrin frontier, having taken Milrovitza and Belapalanka.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—French troops are keeping in contact with the Germans on the whole front of the enemy retreat, the war office announced today. The French have reached Chateau-Porcien, five miles west of Rethel and eighteen miles north of Rheims.

"On the whole front we are keeping in contact with the enemy," the communique said.

"South of Chateau-Porcien, we threw back upon the north bank of the canal the last enemy elements which still resisted."

The great St. Gobian massif, most powerful natural defense on the west front and keystone of German resistance, has been entirely cleared of the enemy, it was indicated by the French war office tonight.

SWEEP PAST TO LA FERE

Following occupation of Laon this morning, the French swept past the city and La Fere, advancing about four miles on the whole 35-mile front between the Oise and Aisne.

More than 6500 civilians were delivered from German domination when Laon was captured.

"We entered Laon this morning, delivering 6500 civilians," the communique said.

"We passed by the town on the whole front, between the Oise and the north Allette.

"East of La Fere we reached the south bank of the Serre as far as the station of Courbes (four miles northeast of La Fere).

"Our line passes Couvron, Aumencourt, Vivase, Aulnois, Sousaon, Souzy (six miles east of Laon) and Marchais. Further east, our line approaches Camp de Sissone, La Malaison and Villers-Devant-Le-Thour, where it joins the old line at the Aire-Aisne canal."

LONDON, Oct. 14, 11:32 a. m.—Fresh progress, both north and south of Doual has been made by the British in their "pocketing" movement against that German stronghold, the war office announced today.

After a heavy bombardment, the Germans delivered a series of counter-attacks on Sunday afternoon in an effort to hold up the British advance east of Cambrai, but all were repulsed.

The German counter thrusts centered north of Le Cateau, east of the Selle river, and in the sectors of Solesmes and Haspres.

The war office report reads:

"The enemy on Sunday afternoon carried out a heavy bombardment and afterwards made attacks against our positions north of Le Cateau, east of the Selle river, and near Solesmes. All were repulsed. Another attack near Haspres was repulsed also.

"We have made further progress north and south of Doual.

"Additional prisoners were captured."

LAON WELCOMES VICTORIOUS FRENCH

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN THE LAON REGION, Oct. 14.—By the Associated Press.—In a literal transport of joy, the 6000 inhabitants remaining in Laon rushed to the gates of the city yesterday afternoon to greet General Mangin, who made his entry at 3:30 o'clock. Men, women and children, with tears running down their cheeks and waving the tri-color, cried "Long Live General Mangin! Long Live the Army! Long Live Our Liberators!"

The people crowded around the general, almost carrying him in triumph to the city hall, where he was received by the deputy mayor. The mayor himself and 600 young men had been carried off by the Germans.

General Mangin's forces reached the Laon-La Fere railroad at 10:45 a. m. and a quarter of an hour later the French tri-color was floating from the tower of the Laon Cathedral. About the same hour the last Germans had been chased from the forest of St. Gobain, which for four years had been one of the enemy's strongest bastians.

The French Fifth Army has continued its forward movement, liberating the villages of Sterme, Outre-Ramecourt and Montaigu and reaching the enemy's secondary defense line before Sissonne.

Further to the east both the French infantry and artillery have crossed the Aisne at Vluz-Les-Asfeld and Asfeld-La-Ville.

MORSE GETS POLICE 'JOB' WITH VOTE OF EDWARDS

Commissioner Fred Morse was made commissioner of public health and safety, replacing Commissioner F. F. Jackson today by the passage of the so-called Soderberg ordinance, which makes a shift of three commissioners. No action was taken on the proposed ordinance which would have replaced Jackson by Commissioner W. H. Edwards, excepting the motion of Commissioner Jackson that it be "consigned to the waste paper basket."

The transfers effected by the passage of the Soderberg ordinance rearrange the commissionerships as follows:

Morse is transferred from the department of public works to the department of public health and safety, replacing Jackson.

Commissioner Fred Soderberg is transferred from the department of streets to that of public works, replacing Morse.

Dr. Jackson is transferred from the department of public health and safety to the street department, replacing Soderberg.

The passage of the Soderberg ordinance, in place of that making the Edwards-Jackson shift, was effected by the manipulation of parliamentary procedure on the part of Commissioner Soderberg, and was carried through in the face of the opposition of Commissioner Edwards. It forced an issue in which Edwards voted in favor of the ordinance transferring Morse to Jackson's department, his vote being the deciding vote in the roll call.

The ordinance carried by three votes, those of Commissioners Edwards, Jackson and Soderberg. Commissioner Morse and Mayor Davie voted "no."

The transfer of Morse from the department of public works will result in few drastic changes, if any, at the present time.

It became known today that had Edwards been transferred to Jackson's department it would have almost disrupted the department, as half a dozen chief officials had signified their intention of resigning should this course be taken by the city council. In several instances the resignations had already been written out and were ready to be submitted.

"In view of the fact that there will be a general reorganization of the council and the city administration in about six months or so, due to the coming spring municipal election, I do not feel that drastic changes, resulting in some confusion in the departments, are advisable at this time," said Commissioner Morse after he had been transferred to the department of public health and safety. "Wherever I find that efficiency and the good of the department will be actually served by making changes, I shall make them. But I shall make no hasty changes merely for the sake of change, and there will be no changes made for patronage reasons."

Morse signified that he would not remove Chief J. H. Nedderman. Nedderman was one of those who was prepared to resign in case Edwards was elected to the department, but intimated that he would not do so unless Morse wishes him to do so.

COURTS PAY TRIBUTE TO JUDGE OGDEN

M. C. Chapman, Lin S. Church, Roscoe D. Jones and Judge W. H. Waste spoke today in tribute to the memory of the late Judge Frank B. Ogden before the superior bench of Alameda county sitting en banc. The service was the most impressive of its character ever held in the sombre room, and more splendid words of praise were never spoken of a man.

"The surest prophecy of his success was the sterling character of his manhood, noted when he was a young man," said M. C. Chapman, speaking for the Bar Association. "His life is an open book, from which loving hands would not blot a single page. What he has done constitutes the priceless heritage of those who were near to him, and the community in which he lived and served.

"The true friendship that was in his heart, the generous kindness of his nature, softened the harshness of the law, which he administered without fear, but with justice to all men regardless of their status in life. He brought to the bench a large understanding and a genius for interpretation of not only the law but the motives of man.

"His simple home is much more near to heaven than the gorgeous palace adorned with the acquisitions of wealth."

Attorney Lin S. Church paid tender tribute to Judge Ogden's justice and fearlessness as a judge, his spirit as a citizen and his devotion as father, husband and friend.

"We garland his grave with the tenderest blossoms of love. His life was a blessing, inspiration and example. He possessed in fullest measure all the characteristics of true manhood, and his going reminds us that as we proceed upon the journey of life mile-stones change to headstones and underneath each one of them a friend."

OLD FRIENDSHIP.

Attorney Church spoke of the deceased from an acquaintance beginning over a third of a century ago when the judge presided in the Oakland police court, where the speaker was prosecuting attorney, and said that even then the disposition to help with problems that perplexed the young lawyer, an attribute that so endeared him to the members of the bar throughout his long career upon the bench, was one of the characteristics of his kindliness.

"Judge Ogden, we verily believe, now knows the beauties of the eternal morning," spoke Attorney Roscoe D. Jones. "Judge Ogden did not grow austere as his years went by. Always he retained the cheery spirit of youth. No one ever heard him impugn the motives of any man, and the high esteem in which his memory is held after a third of a century of public service is the highest testimonial to his worth."

Judge Ogden was one of the pioneers in the probation system, and a testimonial to his keen intuitive judgment of the actuating motive of offenders was spoken by Probation Officer Leonard D. Compton.

"Human law, unless animated by divine law, was to him a ramshackle and planless structure, and like John Wesley, he saw that the souls of men differ in degree and that but for the mercy of Divine Providence he might have been changed into the place of the man who stood before him at the bar of justice.

"Knowledge fed the flame of his wisdom and he became a light bearer."

RESOLUTIONS PRESENTED.

Resolutions were presented on behalf of the Bar Association by Judge John J. Allen.

Attorney Clinton S. Dodge, who introduced the measure in the legislature of 1892, creating the department of the Superior Court to which Judge Ogden was appointed at the age of 34, spoke of great service to justice done by the appointment. He said that Judge Ogden's devotion to his family, his profession, his friends and his country was the chief attribute of his character and he had often expressed gratitude that he had a son in the service of the country.

The only quotation from the departed was given by Judge W. H. Waste, in his reply for the bench. He read a letter from Justice Henry A. Melvin in which the language occurred. The Supreme Justice had written a letter to Judge Ogden while the latter was in the hospital, sending some flowers, and Judge Ogden had replied:

"The flowers look down upon me to cheer me and make beautiful my room."

Judge Waste referred to him as the dean of the Alameda county Superior Court, expressing the belief that his vacant chair is not vacant, but that he is present still.

"The simplicity of his character reflected the beauty of nature," said the judge, "and his love of men was of that endearing kind that drew all people to him. He possessed a great love of nature, family, fellowman and God, and when we consider his training we feel that his death is not a going down in defeat, but the rising of a great soul in victory."

TRIBUTE FOR O'BRIEN.

Resolutions were read on behalf of the Bar Association in memoriam of the passing of William H. O'Brien, long a deputy city attorney, and an address was delivered by Attorney Ben Woolner. Judge Joseph S. Koford replied for the bench, speaking of Attorney O'Brien's legal judgment that enabled him to answer intricate questions of law without research. Judge Koford said that as deputy district attorney the deceased was known as the "old reliable," always present, always ready and equipped to supply the need.

Actor Preacher to Speak to Ad Club

The Rev. Frank Gorman, actor-preacher, known on the stage as the "singing parson," will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Advertising Club of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce tomorrow. He is on the Orpheum program this week.

The Rev. Mr. Gorman will tell the admen how theaters help their business and Uncle Sam's, his subject being "The Theater as an Advertising Medium and How the Theaters have aided the Government in its War Work."

Rev. Mr. Gorman quit the pulpit for the stage, believing there was a wider field for his talents behind the footlights, some years ago. When he went into theatrical work he made one of his first appearances before the Oakland Ad Club.

herewith, acting upon instructions from my government, the text of a communication received by the minister of foreign affairs of Spain from the charge d'affaires of Turkey in Madrid on October 12, and which reached me late yesterday (Sunday) evening.

MORSE NOW POLICE HEAD IN OAKLAND

was filled today with interested spectators when the council convened. Routine business was taken up first and disposed of. Finally City Clerk L. W. Cummings came to the proposed ordinance providing for the interchange of Jackson and Edwards and began reading it in a droning voice. He had gotten only as far as the words "determining that it is for the public good to ——," when he was interrupted by Commissioner Soderberg.

"I move that the ordinance transferring Commissioners Jackson, Morse and Soderberg be taken up first," said Soderberg.

"That's not parliamentary," retorted Commissioner Edwards. "The ordinance transferring the commissioner of revenue and finance (Edwards himself) and the commissioner of public health and safety (Jackson) comes up first and should be voted upon first. You can't take this off the table first."

"I would like to ask the opinion of the city attorney,' said Soderberg. "Is there anything in the rules of order to prevent the council considering one ordinance instead of the other first?"

"The council may determine its own order of business," answered City Attorney Hagan.

"I ask for a roll call," said Soderberg.

"No, sir, it's up to the chair," interposed Edwards. "The chair has the right to say what order of business shall prevail. I appeal to you, Mr. Mayor, as presiding officer of this council, to decide which ordinance shall come up first."

"I do not consider you are right on that," said Mayor Davie. "It is the council's right to decide its order of business. Call the roll.'

Soderberg's motion to take his ordinance up first was carried by four votes, Edwards being the only dissenting voice. Without further comment Soderberg then moved final passage of his own ordinance, making the shift of three commissioners.

The alphabetical method of calling the roll brings Edwards first on the list. He hesitated a moment and then voted "aye."

"Do you vote 'aye'? queried the city clerk.

"Aye," said Edwards again.

Jackson voted "aye," Morse voted "no," Soderreg voted "aye" and the mayor voted "no," making three affirmative votes against the negatives of Morse and Mayor Davie, effecting the passage of the ordinance.

"What shall be done with the other ordinance?" asked Cummings.

Nobody apparently wanted to risk recommending a vote on it.

"Something ought to be done," said the clerk.

"I move it be thrown in the waste paper basket," said Jackson.

"Let it lie on the table," said Edwards, and this was the order.

"I congratulate the council upon having chosen Commissioner Morse for my department," said Jackson. "It is one of the hardest posts to fill, a department through which 75 per cent of the city's business is transacted. It is a great relief to me that Commissioner Morse has been chosen, as I feel he is fully competent to cope with the problems which will confront him there."

"They thought Edwards was asleep," was Commissioner Edwards' comment after the council. "But they found they were fooled.

"When I saw that there were three votes to take up the Soderberg ordinance out of its order, I saw that there were three votes against putting Edwards in that department. They thought they'd kill Soderberg's ordinance first, and then they'd kill my ordinance. But I fooled them. I saw what they were up to—they were not going to move Jackson at all. So I made it my business to see that some transfer was made. They were going to put it over on me, and I put it over on them."

Two important positions in the department of public health and safety are to be filled immediately. These are the positions of city health officer, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Kirby Smith to enter the U. S. Army Medical Corps, and that of city chemist, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Jessie Berry to enter government service.

Commissioner Morse stated that he would immediately consult with medical authorities with a view to filling the two vacancies at the earliest possible moment.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents and save your hair. After several applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.—Advertisement.

'NO ARMISTICE' WITH HUNS, SAY CHURCH FLOCK

Amid the wildest excitement last night in the First Presbyterian Church, President Wilson was called upon to enter into no armistice with the central powers, but to insist upon an unconditional surrender on the part of the enemy. The resolution was proposed by Rev. Frank M. Silsey at the close of a stirring patriotic address and was received with applause. Immediately every person in the house of worship came to their feet. The message will be telegraphed to the President today. The resolution recited that in view of Germany's record of deceit and militarism no armistice was possible.

The usual Sunday night decorum in the church was put aside. Again and again did applause greet the name of President Wilson and the patriotic utterances of the pastor in his unusual sermon. The musical program was given over to war songs. The congregation at the First Presbyterian Church last night represented the voice of several hundred citizens of Oakland.

WOMAN IS FINED.

Nettie McDaniel, who operates a cigar stand at First and Adeline streets, was this morning fined $25 for selling cigarettes to a minor on October 8. Her attorney pleaded ignorance of the law, but Judge George Samuels refused to consider the plea and imposed the fine.

KEY OF FOE POSITION IN FRANCE FALLS

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The last great German stronghold in France is in the hands of the allies.

The St. Gobian massif, which formed the cornerstone of the enemy defensive system, the most powerful the world has ever known, was wrested from the invaders Saturday and yesterday. The big west-front salient extending from the region of Cambrai to Verdun is thus crumbling for its entire length, and the Germans are staggering back toward the impassable Ardennes mountains.

In the north, there still remains the so-called Valenciennes line. It is still practically untested by allied blows, but its hasty construction cannot have rendered it comparable with the Hindenburg system, which was four years in building.

With the fall of St. Gobian forest, from which Paris was so long bombarded by long-range cannon, both Laon and La Fere were occupied by the French.

Passing these cities, the French and Italians are advancing on the whole 35-mile front between the Oise and the Aisne.

The allies are thus within less than 20 miles of the vital enemy center of Hirson, at the western tip of the Ardennes, seizure of which will definitely split the German armies. French troops advancing eastward in the Guise region are about 17 miles from Hirson, while those pushing northeastward from Laon are within 18 miles of the town.

OAKLANDER REPORTED IN DEATH LIST

Corporal Harry H. Shone, son of Mrs. Phoebe Shone, 66 Echo avenue, Oakland, who in August was cited for bravery, died on September 21 in a base hospital from pneumonia, according to word received last week by his family. Shone was drafted on November 2 of last year and sent immediately to France, arriving with the December contingent. He has been on the firing line for the past six months as an operator with the Signal Corps. He was a member of Company C, Signal Corps, and 30 years old. In the big drive at Soissons in July he bore an heroic part, being cited in August for an act of bravery. His mother has yet received no particulars except the fact of the citation. In a letter dated August 19 he wrote that he had returned from the front line to a rest camp and was recovering from a serious cold. The next word was the official telegram last week.

Howard Shone, who joined the colors with his brother, is fighting in France, arriving in July after training in this country. Besides his mother and brother, Corporal Shone is survived by four sisters, Mrs. A. D. Tubbs, Miss Sylvia Shone, Miss Ethel Shone and Mrs. E. H. Gunther.

BERKELEY, Oct. 14.—Word has just reached the University of California of the death of Melvin L. Frandy, former member of the 1918 class, who succumbed to an attack of pneumonia at Camp Humphrey, Va.

Frandy won his "Big C" in the Stanford-California meet last spring, taking third place in the broad jump for the varsity. He was a member of the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity and Tau Beta Phi engineering honor society. He was also assistant in the department of physics at the university during his seinior year.

Frandy's parents reside in Grass Valley.

Word of the death on September 26 of Ralph W. Hill at the battlefront has been received in this city by the young man's mother, Mrs. A. P. Hill, 2870 Fruitvale avenue. Hill, who was 20 years old, was a graduate of Fremont High School. He succumbed to wounds received while serving with the Eighth Regiment of Engineers. Formerly Hill was attached to the Marine Corps. Besides his mother the young man leaves two brothers, Albert P. and James M. Hill.

Densmore Comes to Aid in Prosecutions

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—John B. Densmore, director-general of the United States employment bureau and formerly solicitor-general of the department of labor, arrived here in connection with the prosecution of the so-called Angel Island graft case, involving a score or more immigration officials and local attorneys, which is set for trial before Federal Judge Maurice T. Dooling next Monday. Densmore personally handled the investigation of these cases for the government and will probably assist Special Assistant to the Attorney-General John W. Preston in their prosecution.

EDUCATORS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Miss Regina Woodruff, professor of chemistry at Mills College, is now resting at Merritt Hospital, where she was taken after the automobile collision at Seminary avenue and Foothill boulevard yesterday afternoon, in which four people were hurt. But for the fact that both machines were proceeding at a normal speed it is certain that there would have been fatalities. Miss Woodruff sustained a serious fracture of the pelvis and her condition is giving grave concern to the college and her physicians.

When the machine in which she was riding overturned she was caught underneath, and the heavy weight had to be lifted to release her.

Professor Hetty Bell Ege, dean of the Mills College faculty, sustained a fractured collarbone and serious bruises, and the same injury was suffered by Miss Bernice Giffen, a student.

Professor Mary Cutler and Dr. Hope Traver each received severe bruises and shock, but no broken bones, unless it should prove Dr. Traver sustained a fracture of the bone of the nose.

The accident occurred as the machine was turning into the boulevard. Miss Mary Wohlford, senior student, was driving. In making the sharp turn she ran directly into the other machine, driven by C. S. Bullard, 2445 Prince street, Berkeley. The collision was head-on, and the Mills College car was completely overturned. It is believed the car turned over as the result of Miss Wohlford's effort to turn sharply enough to avoid the collision.

Miss Wohlford, though uninjured, is suffering a nervous breakdown as a result of the misfortune.

The party was proceeding to the home of Miss Ethel Moore, a trustee, to attend a reception.

The injured were hurried to the Oakland receiving hospital and from there taken to the college, where they were attended by Dr. Lela J. Beebe. Dr. Ege and Professor Woodruff were later taken to Merritt Hospital.

BERKELEY ACCIDENTS.

BERKELEY, Oct. 14. — Two persons were injured, while several others had close calls from death as the result of accidents occurring in Berkeley yesterday.

Ching Hong, servant for Chauncey M. Goodrich, 2311 Piedmont avenue, is at Roosevelt hospital with a broken wrist and abrasions of the body as a result of his motorcycle skidding onto the car tracks at Shattuck avenue and Vine street yesterday afternoon.

A fractured left wrist and lacerations were sustained by B. Pedro, driver for the Eastbay Water Co., when he lost control of his motor truck while driving it from a lot at Allston way and West street. The truck failed to make the grade and Pedro sought to help it along, with the result that he was thrown to the ground. He resides at 702 Forty-fifth street, Oakland.

Occupants of cars driven by M. R. Hickman, residing at the Key Route Inn, and Mrs. H. Vercelli, 396 Forty-ninth street, Oakland, had a close call from injury when the two automobiles crashed head-on at Hearst and Euclid avenues yesterday afternoon. Both of the cars were badly damaged but none of the occupants were hurt. An approaching street car is declared by Mrs. Vercelli to have obstructed her view of the street.

BARRING CHILDREN HELD 'DISGRACE'

By EDNA B. KINARD.

"It is absolutely a disgrace to the human race the way apartment house owners and managers have been allowed the freedom of refusing all people with children their apartments," writes one indignant citizen from Los Angeles, in response to the new interest which is aroused in Oakland in protecting the families in which there are young people growing up against being ousted by landlord in apartment houses and dwellings in favor of families in which are no children, Countinuing, he says: "The writer will agree that there are children that should not be taken in, owing to their destrictive ways and the inability of their parents to control them; but why exclude all simply because some are this way. Why cannot the apartment house owner or manager lay down a set of rules to the effect that if children damage any property the head of the family will be liable for such damage and will also be forced to vacate? Any head of a family that has control over his or her children would not object to placing a signature to such rules."

What this correspondent asserts with regard to apartment houses is even more true of dwellings.

While the ordinance is not yet completed which Commissioner F. F. Jackson will introduce into the city council reguating the reationship between property owners who rent and tenants with children, there is every evidence that in all fairness both sides of the question will be recognized even while the children are offered the security of the home.

According to Superintendent Fred Hunter, the enrollment in the Oakland schools has increased by more than 4300 this term. The obvious conclusion is that the city is called upon to provide homes for 4300 additional children. With landlords indignantly protesting that they will not permit children to occupy their properties, where will these 4300 students whose ranks are fast increasing with the influx of additional workers be housed?

It is not an individual question alone. It is a public question.

Grocer Robbed, Is Dead From Shock

Overcome by the excitement of running after two young men who had swindled him out of $4 by shortchanging him, Charles W. Brown, who runs a grocery store at 1333 Peralta street, dropped dead in his store last night. Brown's wife, who had heard him shout "Stop thief," continued the chase for three blocks. When she returned to the store she found Brown had staggered back into the place and had fallen dead beside the counter. He had been suffering from heart trouble for several months. The thieves escaped and Mrs. Brown was unable to give a good description of them.

BAKER BACK AFTER CHASE BY U-BOAT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—"Whatever the result of the peace proposals, the War Department must proceed at full speed with men and supplies."

This was the comment on the German peace talk from Secretary of War Baker, on his return from a visit of more than a month to the western front.

Exuberant with confidence of great victory and praise of the bravery of the Americans, Secretary Baker arrived early this morning at an Atlantic port aboard the Northern Pacific, called by the Germans "Ghost Ship."

The "ghost ship" escaped the U-boat that sank the Hirano Maru a few days ago only through the extreme precautions taken to protect the Secretary of War and his party, which included John D. Ryan, second assistant secretary of war; Brigadier General Hines, chief of embarkation service; Walter Gifford, director of the Council of National Defense; Julius Rosenwald of the council; Captain H. E. Christie, aide to Ryan; Joseph Hostetter of Cleveland, former law partner of Secretary Baker, and Charles Day of the United States Shipping Board.

The presence of a submarine lurking in the course in which the Hirano was sunk, was "spotted," and the Northern Pacific was diverted. The secretary had the protection of naval convoy, however, only for two days out of Brest, which was cleared October 6 at daylight.

When asked about the Liberty Loan, Secretary Baker said:

"The allied armies are now in the full tide of victorious advance. American divisions are fighting with the British, with the French, and in their own sectors, and everywhere the enemy is in retreat and disorder."

Stringent Food Rules Made Check Placed on Eating Houses

A new and far more stringent program of food saving for all public eating places, effective on and after October 31, which will effect nine million regular and occasional patrons, was announced yesterday by the United States food administration at Washington through the California administration.

The new rules, including twelve general orders, which will be strictly enforcible, apply to all places where cooked food is sold to be eaten on the premises, such as hotels, clubs, restaurants, boarding houses, dining cars and steamships.

Observance of the restrictions will materially aid in fulfilling the nation's pledge to export 17,500,000 tons of food prior to June 30 next.

The twelve general orders which furnish the specific measures by which the food administration plans to carry out, so far as public eating places are concerned, the announced plan that for the next year the American food conservation program will be a direct reduction in the consumption of all foods rather than special "drives" and emergency regulations, such as meatless and wheatless days, follow:

BREAD IS LIMITED.

Rule No. 1—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served any bread or any bakery products which do not contain at least 20 per cent of wheat flour substitutes; nor shall it serve or permit to be served more than two ounces of this bread, known as Victory bread, to one person at one meal, or if no Victory bread is served, more than four ounces of other breads, such as cornbread, muffins, Boston brown bread. Sandwiches, or bread served at boarding camps, and rye bread containing 50 per cent or more of pure rye flour are excepted.

Rule 2—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served bread or toast as garnishing or under meat.

Rule 3—No public eating place shall allow any bread to be brought to the table until after the first course is served.

Rule 4—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served to any one patron at any one meal more than one kind of meat. For the purpose of this rule meat shall be considered as including beef, mutton, pork, poultry and any by-products thereof.

Rule 5—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served any bacon as a garnisher.

Rule 6—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served to any one person at any one meal more than one-half ounce of butter.

Rule 7—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served to any one person at any one meal more than one-half ounce of chedder, or, commonly called, American cheese.

Rule 8—No public eating place shall use or permit to be used, the sugar bowl on the table or lunch counter, nor shall any public eating place serve sugar or permit it to be served unless the guest so requests, and in no event shall the amount served to any one person at any one meal exceed one teaspoonful or its equivalent.

SUGAR CONSERVED.

Rule 9—No public eating place shall use or permit the use of an amount of sugar in excess of two pounds for every ninety meals served, including all uses of sugar on the table and in cooking, excepting such sugar as may be allotted by the federal food administrator to hotels, holding a bakery license. No sugar allotted for this special baking purpose shall be used for any other purpose.

Rule 10—No public eating place shall burn any food or permit any food to be burned and all waste shall be saved to feed animals or reduced to obtain fats.

Rule 11—No public eating place shall display food on its premises in any such manner as may cause its deterioration so that it cannot be used for human consumption.

Rule 12—No public eating place shall serve or permit to be served what is known as double cream or cream de luxe and in any event no cream containing over 20 per cent butter fats shall be served.

SENATE IN DEBATE ON HUN REPLY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Republican Leader Lodge today introduced a resolution to declare it the sense of the Senate that no further communication be had with the German government on the subject of an armistice and that no communication be had with the German government except on the question of unconditional surrender.

Senator Lodge made no comment on the resolution at the time of its introduction. No action was taken.

Discussion of Germany's peace reply in the Senate was opened today by Senator New of Indiana, Republican, who declared nothing short of unconditional surrender of the German army will meet the demands of the American people.

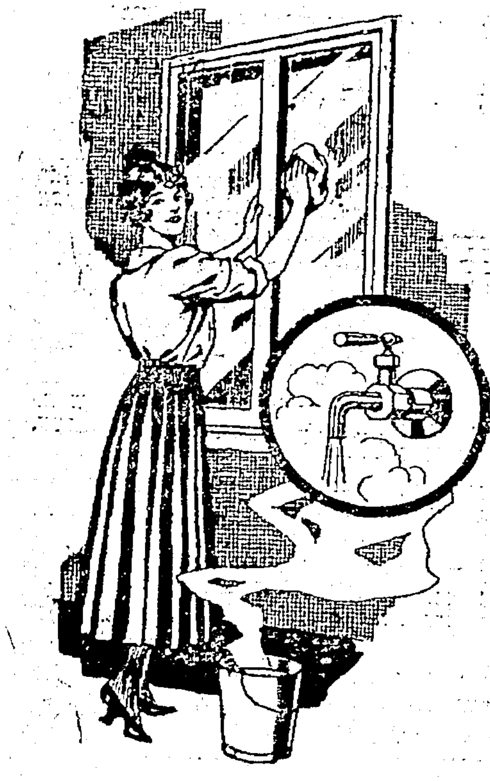
Hot Water Is a Necessity In the Household



THINK of the many times during the day when you actually need or could use hot water for some household purpose. Think of the numerous instances when you really do go to the trouble and inconvenience of heating a kettle on the kitchen range.

Then decide whether or not it isn't about time for you to

Install a Gas Water Heater

There are several types, automatic and tank, and a choice of various styles in each.

Install an Automatic Heater and you have hot water for washing windows, dishes, floors or woodwork at the turn of a faucet—enough for laundry or bath or just a cupfull for shaving.

Hot water from a Gas Water Heater costs less than when coal-heated and the fuel-saving is of importance to the nation.

WEAK, RUN DOWN WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.

So. Kaukauna, Wis.—"I was weak, all run down, tired all the time, and had Asthma so I could hardly keep around and do my housework. After everything else had failed to help me, Vinol built me up and made me well and strong."—Mrs. Jay Parker.

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Parker's case, is because it contains the necessary elements to create an appetite, aid digestion, make pure blood and create strength. It is the beef and cod liver peptones—iron and glycerophosphates in Vinol—that does it—you will not be disappointed if you try it.

Officer's Wife In Camouflage Corps Work

Far and wide is the fame of the new Camouflage Corps of New York spreading, its personnel being about thirty of the younger matrons and girls of the service set, all daughters of officers from West Point or Annapolis. In this notable group, whose motto, "service" is being practically demonstrated every hour of the day and evening is a California matron, Mrs. Herbert Sydney Jones, wife of Lieutenant Jones U. S. N., the former Miss Enid Wilson, one of the loveliest of the younger girls who made her home in this city before her marriage. The Camouflage Corps uniform is the smartest to be found anywhere, in khaki tailored model with which is worn a cap patterned after that worn by the "blue devils" of France, the leather puttees, the finishing touch to the uniform.

Not only does the corps design camouflage houses, trees, landscape and miniature models of ships (Mrs. Jones is, incidentally, creating the design for her husband's, later to be approved by the board) but the members are thoroughly drilled in shooting, French, calisthentics and other war work.

The young matron has just completed a camouflage designed for an ambulance.

In a recent drive by the corps for funds, $200,000 was raised for the furtherance of this branch of war work.

The Junior Club of the West Oakland Home will give a musicale Saturday afternoon, October 26th, from 2 to 6 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Alice Buteau. The Junior club is comprised of the younger girls who have at heart the interests of the West Oakland Home which holds its annual bazaar in November. Mrs. Buteau will open her home for the affair, 55 Seaview avenue, with Mrs. Olive Reed Cushman in charge of the program. Mrs. Victor Boell is chairman of the Junior Club and her assistant directors are Mrs. William A. Schrock, Mrs. H. B. Mehrmann, Mrs. George C. Pardee and Mrs. Olive Reed Cushman.

An interesting wedding the past week which took place in Sacramento and for which many local guests motored up, was that of of Miss Ednah G. Willard Miller of Marinette, Wisconsin. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home in N street, intimate friends only, attending and the service read by Bishop William Hall Moreland according to the rites of the Episcopal church.

Miss Anna Barbour of Piedmont, Miss James Diggs, Miss Harriet Hunter and Miss Margaret Scheld were bridesmaids gowned in pink and blue bridesmaid frocks, all carrying shower bouquets of the bridesmaid roses. Miss Eleanor Simmons, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore flesh colored georgette and carried pink roses. The bride's gown was fashioned from that worn by her mother, of white satin and rose point lace. The veil, also of rose-point, was worn by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. G. L. Simmons. The shower bouquet was of orchids, bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Lieutenant Miller and his bride, at the conclusion of their honeymoon, will go to Love Field, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed with his air service unit.

CHAPTER XXVII

AN ADVENTURE IN FOOD

Edith sat still after Mrs. Blake had made her indignant exit, whipping her thoughts into practical shape. She was a little dashed at Lil Baker's prophecy that nobody could "make a nickel doing fancy cookery unless they did it on a big scale, with things costing so much." Yet the idea of turning her talent for making goodies into a means of earning money appealed to her with tremendous force.

She determined to try, at any rate. Accordingly, on the next afternoon, when her work was done and the children playing comfortably on a neighbor's porch, she put on her best-looking clothes and set out as countless women have done before her to try to "earn a little money."

She took the trolley to a rather busy corner in a neighboring village, where a fancy grocery flourished. This was patronized by the wealthier families of the district and Edith felt sure they would want some of her kitchen products.

Blushing painfully, she entered the shop and asked for the manager.

"I'm Hardman, madame," bowed a stout man, "owner of the place. I shall be glad to take your order personally. Have we the pleasure of your account?"

Edith wanted to turn and run, but gathered her courage and replied, "I—I didn't exactly wish to give an order. I—er—was hoping you might—take one from me. Do you ever, Mr. Hardman, have inquiries for home-made cakes, jellies, mincemeat or simple candies for children?"

The proprietor's face and manner changed abruptly at Edith's halting explanation. He put down his order book, replaced his cap and coughed.

"Ah—well, not much market for 'em," he said. "People around here either makes their own fancy stuff or has it out from the city. We got a good demand for flavoring extracts. Know how to make flavoring extracts?"

No, Edith didn't know how to do that.

"Well, you might send us a few jars of your preserves, on memorandum—that is, we'll give you what we get for 'em less 20 per cent. But if I was you, lady," he added practically, "I'd try the big stores in the city. They sell to thousands where we have only a local trade. Them things has to be made on a big scale or they ain't much profit in it * * * Not at all. Good afternoon."

Almost Lil Blake's words! Edith felt abashed and flustered by her first experience in anything along business lines. She walked some distance into the residential part of the town, wondering how women ever got started in the remunerative enterprises she read of in magazines and newspapers.

Presently she found herself in front of a handsome estate, parked and beautified to the last degree of lavishness. She slowed down a little in her walk, taking in the details of the house. Just then a plum-colored limousine swung from the road toward the private driveway of the mansion. A woman looked at Edith through the window of the car, and as Edith turned, the woman bowed, at the same time signaling the chauffeur to stop.

"Oh—beg your pardon," said the limousine lady the next instant, "I mistook you for a friend of mine." But she did not tell the man to drive on. She looked at Edith Ferrol, apparently taking pleasure in her fresh, pink face, brightened by the walk and the excitement of the call on the groceryman. "Perhaps you are looking for someone?" She added with the delightful smile of an old lady who has been young for a long time and still rejoices in life and people and the march of events.

Her manner impelled Edith to tell her errand.

"Get in here with me," said the lady. "We'll have a cup of tea in the sitting-room and talk things over. I know everybody around here."

Feeling somewhere between an adventuress and a book canvasser, but not embarrassed as she had been with the grocer, Edith did talk to her white-haired hostess.

"I like your independence and your spirit, child," said the older woman. "If your marmalade and mincemeat's as good as your breeding, I'll take them gladly. I have a chef and nine other servants—but I'm hungry for something good to eat. Send me a trial batch of all you make."

(To be continued.)

Boatswain Robbed and Beaten by Thugs

Edward Rohde, boatswain on the steamer Kosota, now in dry dock at the Moore & Scott shipyard, was held up and robbed last night while walking back to the city from the Oakland pier by two men, who, in addition to relieving him of $9, gave him a severe beating. Although the men were not masked, Rohda was unable to give the police a good description of his assailants.

JAPAN SOCIETY TO HONOR NOTED MEN

Consul General Ohta of Japan, who has just arrived at his new post in San Francisco, and T. Miyaoka of Tokyo, a distinguished Japanese lawyer, will be the guests of honor at a dinner tendered by the Japan Society of America at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco this evening.

Miyaoka will deliver an address on the subject of "Japan and the War." He came to the United States a few weeks ago to deliver the annual address before the American Bar Association at Cleveland. He also delivered the annual address before the Canadian Bar Association. Before entering the legal profession Miyaoka was for many years in the diplomatic service of Japan, and he has had a very wide experience with men of affairs in various parts of the world.

Among the other speakers will be Mrs. H. P. Davison of New York, wife of H. P. Davison, who is the active head of the American Red Cross. Another speaker will be Congressman Arthur Elston, who has recently returned from the firing line in France.

News of the Churches

"The war is saving more of us than a thousand Billy Sunday revivals," said Frederick Vining Fisher in his address yesterday morning at the First Unitarian church on "What Will the War Do to Me?"

After showing how tremendously the war is revolutionizing the programs of millions of lives and homes, Fisher said: "The war is the greatest religious movement of the ages for it is saving the world. We were drifting into a selfish, smug, materialistic individualism when the war came. Even charity was for press publicity and missions were to convert people to our viewpoint. Class lines were growing, the nation was separating into caste groups, the whole question of education, business and politics and almost religion was 'Will it pay?'

"That is all changed now. Individualism is dead, yet never so great an incentive to live at our best. The whole center of life is shifted from self to God. When millions die no one man's life counts much, yet after all it takes all to win the war and every life counts big.

"Mere place, money, race, creed are forgotten now in the new valuation of life. It is no longer what you have but what are you, no longer what do you want but what can you do.

"Men debate whether the boys dying for America are saved in heaven. How useless the question. The fact is that the moment the boy leaves home and mother and sweetheart, pleasure and ambition all behind and goes bravely away willing to die for right and God and country he is saved to everything great in the universe."

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

The First Congregational church feels the absolute importance of putting over the Liberty Loan, so it again threw its evening service into the campaign yesterday. The special loan speaker was Frank W. Gorman, "the singing parson," who opens an engagement this week at the Orpheum, an old time acquaintance of the pastor, Dr. Van Horn. The liberty half hour of song service was full of swing and spirit and was followed by a brief address by the pastor on "The Discipline of Democracy."

FIRST CHRISTIAN.

The special meetings of the First Christian church are increasing in interest and will continue at least another week. Evangelist Fagan is not a sensational evangelist, uses no slang, but in elegant English pleads like a lawyer for a client or a recruiting officer for volunteers and there is always a response.

Last night he said: "The New Testament tells us that Jesus was the Christ, the son of the Living God. If he was not, who was he?" His line of argument was that it required a thousand times more credulity to claim that Jesus was an impostor, or was himself deceived than to accept him as divine."

Uncle Wiggily Tells of Last Locust

(By Howard R. Garis.)

One beautiful day in October, when the brown leaves were rustling on the trees, as though in a hurry to dance down and play tag with the other leaves that had fallen to carpet the woods, Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, said to Nurse Jane:

"I think I'll go for a walk, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy."

"Very well," answered the muskrat lady who kept the hollow stump bungalow nice and clean for the bunny rabbit. "And I hope you have a nice adventure."

"Thank you," responded Uncle Wiggily, and away he hopped.

He had not gone very far on his way toward Forest Hill, which was close to the Orange Ice Mountains, when, all of a sudden, the bunny rabbit gentleman heard a queer, buzzing noise in a bush near him, and a sad voice said:

"Oh, dear! Isn't it sad to be all alone! Oh, what shall I do when freezing winter comes?"

"Ha! That sounds like trouble," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I wonder if I can be of any help. That chap, whoever he is, sings like a grasshopper, but I thought they had all gone down South long ago. Hello there!" he cried. "Who are you, and can I help you?"

"I am the last locust," was the answer, "and sad it makes me to say that! All my friends have gone away, but I was so busy singing my summer song that I never thought to go with them. Now I am caught here with winter coming on, and I don't know what to do. It is rather cold for me now, and when it gets colder—Burr-r-r-r-r! I can almost feel myself shiver!"

"That is too bad," said Uncle Wiggily. "I wonder if I can do anything to help you. I don't know much about locusts."

"Well, here I am," went on the voice. "Take a look at me! I surely am in trouble."

Uncle Wiggily looked and saw, on a bush near him, a bug a little larger than a grasshopper and colored like the bark of a tree.

"Very few persons like me," went on the locust. "Some people call me a 'hot bug,' because I always sing when it's going to be a hot day. But I can't help that—I was made that way. And it is true that some locusts eat up all the green things the farmers grow in their fields or orchards. But I am not that kind.

"I am just the last locust of summer, and I never did any harm that I know of, and now I'm going to freeze and—oh, dear! It's just dreadful!" And the last locust made a sad buzzing sound with its wings.

"It is too bad," said Uncle Wiggily. "But perhaps I can help you. I'll take you home to my hollow stump bungalow, and you may stay there all winter. Nurse Jane and I will be glad to have you, and you and the black cricket, whom I am also keeping over winter, can give concerts in the long evenings."

"The very thing!" buzzed the last locust. "It is very kind of you. But even now I am so chilly in this October air that I fear I cannot fly to your bungalow."

"Have no fear," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "I will carry you on top of my tall, silk hat."

So the last locust had no fear and, perching himself on top of the bunny's tall, silk hat, he was given a nice ride through the woods to the hollow stump bungalow.

But before they got there, all of a sudden, out from the bushes jumped a bad old Lallapaloosa. Now a Lallapaloosa is one of the worst animals there is for biting souse off a rabbit's ears, and as soon as Uncle Wiggily saw this chap he cried:

"Oh, dear! What shall I do?"

"I don't know!" buzzed the last locust. "I wish I could help you, as you are helping me, but I don't see how I can!" and he buzzed his wings, making them whirr like an electric fan.

But all of a sudden, as soon as he heard that noise, the Lallapaloosa cried:

"Oh, it's a rattlesnake! Oh, Uncle Wiggily has a rattlesnake on his hat to take care of him. Oh, I'm afraid of a rattlesnake! I'm going to run away!" And the Lallapaloosa did, not hurting Uncle Wiggily at all.

For the rattlesnake is one of the worst snakes there is, and once he bites a Lallapaloosa that chap couldn't be cured, even in a hospital. And the buzzing of the wings of a locust sounds just like the whirr of a rattlesnake's rattles.

"You saved my souse for me," said Uncle Wiggily to the "hot bug," and the locust had. So he lived happily in the bunny's bungalow all winter, which teaches us that you never can tell what will happen in this world. And if the frosty icicle doesn't try to stir the hot tea and give the gas stove the shivers, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the snow bird.

Jane Urban, In Miller's Play, Success

Jane Urban came into her own in royal style at the Fulton playhouse yesterday when she charmed the Sunday crowds with as beautiful a stage portrait as one might hope to gaze upon She was Cynthia in "The Rainbow."

Cynthia is a girl of extraordinary charm and witchery who was first played by Ruth Chatterton, when Henry Miller and Ruth Chatterton made of "The Rainbow" one of the greatest theatrical successes of a decade.

The girl is a dainty, lovable witch. Her father, an aristocrat, is long separated from his wife, whose habitat is in Europe. Miss Cynthia has not seen her father since babyhood. She comes to him for just a little time, bewitches him, entrances him, and then leaves—and then comes the story of "The Rainbow."

Those who demand paprika or hot stuff on the stage need not bother about "The Rainbow." It is not for them. "The Rainbow" is for those who love exquisite art in a play, who love the thrill of the human heart as it is played upon by the emotions, who love splendid acting by fine artists, and who enjoy all the charm that fine men and women can convey when cast in a play that is rich and strong in human stuff, and with plenty of fun tucked in for sweetening. That is "The Rainbow."

Paul Harvey plays the aristocratic, lonely father in "The Rainbow"—the role Henry Miller made famous. The calm, serene gravity of the man of the world, who has been estranged from his wife and daughter for years, but who melts and thaws under the influence of the child's girlish buoyancy, is done to perfection by Paul Harvey, for that seems to be Harvey's metier. His scenes with Miss Cynthia were like beautiful cameo portraits, so exquisitely clean cut, so shaded with life and light and color, that they seemed absolutely real, and not merely the tones and manners of a man of the stage.

The play calls for a clever lot of actors and they are found in Frank Darien and Norbert Sills, Lucile Webster and Merle Stanton, Eleanor Parker and Sam Burton, Seldon Roche, Hugh Knox and Helen Audiffred.

The welcome news was wafted from the stage during the afternoon that Miss Fulton herself is to begin a limited season at the Fulton playhouse next Sunday, opening in Edward Childs Carpenter's play "The Three Bears."—R. S.

NEW MUSICAL COMEDY OFFERED AT PANTAGES.

A two-act musical comedy with the beauty chorus de luxe, some splendid singers, dancers, gymnasts and a couple of wonderful talking and acrobatic parrots, comprise part of the new bill which opened at the Pantages Sunday afternoon. The musical comedy, "He's A Devil," one of Herman Becker's latest hits, serves as a vehicle for the introduction to Oaklanders of inimitable Jack Marcus and his co-stars, Jack Davis, as Satan, and beautiful Billee Stewart, as a vampire, on vampiring bent. The scenic settings are strikingly original and the chorus one of the prettiest that has traveled at the circuit for several moons.

Hard toe dancing, some clever lines and plenty of comedy are offered by Miller, Packer and Selz, who are on the bill as an added attraction. The Red Fox Trot company have some catchy songs, but they made their best impression by an exhibition of ballroom dances.

Constant Parmane and George Shelley, young European artists, offer a distinctly original routine which proves a genuine vaudeville surprise and treat. Rokoma is an amazing young acrobat, who, in evening dress, offers a series of startling feats. He has until recently been featured with some of the leading circus offerings. Everyone loves to hear parrots and Jackie and Billy, a duo offered by M'lle Franceska, interest and delight the children as well as their elders.

Exciting in the extreme are the events in the eighth episode of "Hands Up," with Ruth Roland in the title part.

"IN WALKED JIMMY" GIVEN AT YE LIBERTY.

Judging from the reception given Crane Wilbur at Ye Liberty playhouse, one who did not know would be led to believe that the popular leading man had been away from his bailiwick for a thousand years instead of one week. He returned for the principal role in "In Walked Jimmy," one of the brightest comedy dramas to be offered here for many weeks.

"Jimmy," an optimist, first, last and always ever looking on the bright side of life, never judging a man by the size of his bank roll nor the number of battles his ancestors have fought, Jimmy appoints himself manager of a tottering shoe factory. It prospers under the sun of Jimmy's smile and in a few short weeks is put on a paying basis.

In the meantime the love story between the new manager, Jimmy, and the pretty secretary, played by Jane O'Roark, progresses favorably until the town folk begin to suspect Jimmy of having been connected with a train robbery which occurred the night before the smiling stranger reached the hamlet. Complications follow in rapid-fire order, but peace and happiness finally comes out of the chaos.

With Wilbur appeared Marta Golden who did good work in the feminine comedy part; Tom Chatterton, Frank Bonner, Rupert Drum, whose old man was excellent; Fred Thomas, John Ivan and Al Cunningham.

Next week Wilbur will be starred in "The Man They Left Behind," the new patriotic drama dealing with war conditions at home.

"STEP LIVELY" IS SEEN AT BUNGALOW.

"Step Lively, Girls," said Roy Clair, and they stepped. "Step Lively" is the name of the latest musical farce which Roy Clair is putting on at the Bungalow theater this week. There are novelty song numbers and funny lines, but better than all, there are several new members to the already large cast.

Ira Robertson, clever character man; Miss Pearl Jardiniere, "the funniest thing in skirts"; Miss Norma Leslie, the dainty little songstress, and many others well known and loved by Bungalow patrons.

But Manager Roy Clair has confided to a very few of his close friends that he had made the discovery of the age, at least of the war age. A young, handsome leading man! He had almost given up in despair, but he will present his discovery as a member of the Bungalow cast, to take part in a number of musical comedies within the next few weeks.

SWIMMING RACES NEPTUNE MAGNET.

The P. A. A. swimming races proved a drawing magnet at Neptune Beach yesterday and the big Alameda amusement park was crowded from noon until late in the evening. Two thrilling finishes were seen in the girls' and men's races, and the big crowd that lined the tank and shore got full value for their trouble in attending.

The beautiful weather has brought back crowds of mid-summer proportions and some of the swimmers who had laid away their suits for the season were back again disporting in the big tank and paddling in the surf. The tide is just right for surf bathing in the afternoons and the children, especially, have lots of fun splashing in the open water. There is a beautiful sandy bottom off Neptune Beach and a whole half-mile of bathing ground without a hole or any semblance of undertow. Bathing at Neptune is absolutely safe.

Picnic parties by the hundred spent the day at the beach and occupied every available table, while thousands patronized the cafeteria. The dance was crowded all afternoon and evening and it was with reluctance that the merrymakers left the big amusement resort.

Next Sunday will be one of the gala days of the season. The social and athletic club of the San Francisco plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation will take over the park for the day and a wonderful program of athletic and aquatic stunts will be staged. There will be three four-round boxing bouts; water polo game between the Alameda and San Francisco plants, tug-of-war and swimming races in addition to some P. A. A. championship events.

Plays & Players

BILL OF MERIT GIVEN AT MACDONOUGH.

Paul Kleist and company, who present "The Land of Dreams" as the head line act at the Macdonough Theater for the Sunday-to-Tuesday show, are entitled to credit for producing a novelty. Kleist has a novel way of whistling, startling methods of introducing his varied musical instruments, a striking scene in which an airship, with Kleist aboard, fights and crashes into a battleship whose wireless flashes add realism to the picture and a number of amusing and surprising tricks, including dancing in the air, galvanizing wooden figures with life and shooting a duck that lights on his gun. It is a sensational and satisfying performance.

The balance of the bill has decided merit, with The American Melody Maids; all singers of ability and national reputation; Allen and Betty Leiber in a playlet jammed with action and interest, "The Zeppelin Raid." Robinson and Martin, clever colored comedians in a race track sketch; Lyman and Clarice Woods in lively, catchy songs, patter and dancing, and Catherine Calvert in a five-reel feature photoplay entitled, "Out of the Night," a delightful love story, full of charming sentiment and dramatic coloring.

The bill runs to Tuesday night, "The Great Patricks," a duo, masculine and feminine, in sensational acrobatic equilibristic feats, heading a new show beginning Wednesday, with five other vaudeville acts and June Elvidge in a feature screen drama of five reels, "The Appearance of Evil."

AMERICA'S ANSWER SEEN AT KINEMA.

Were it possible for the Kaiser to have seen in a vision the disclosures of the picture, "America's Answer," that is being presented at the Kinema theater this week, he would never have dared challenge us by sinking the Lusitania and committing other atrocities.

"America's Answer" tells powerfully in pictures what words could only feebly portrays, with a thrill in every foot of the film, because every foot of film is true stuff, taken over in France, with the sole exception of the aviation stunts done by the marine corps over here.

Fathers, mothers, families and friends of all the boys over there may rejoice in this wonderful film that shows the activities of all the departments of the expeditionary forces, in many cases being close-ups of the boys both individually and collectively, and in nearly all cases, easily recognizable.

The Allied War Weekly accompanies "America's Answer," and last but not least, the Liberty Loan film of Mary Pickford's and the pictures taken of her here in Oakland last week, when she spoke for the Liberty Loan.

"SHARK MONROE" IS BROADWAY THRILLER.

"Shark Monroe" is William Hart's triumph. As seen at the Broadway theater yesterday by thousands it is today declared to be the most remarkable character transition a screen star has accomplished. "Shark Monroe" is a far cry from the western roles Hart has been visualizing for the screen and, in fact, so different from any that he has essayed, to be a revelation. Hart, however, does not monopolize all the interest centered on a program which will be shown for the last times today. A riot of fun is provided in a Mack Sennett comedy and another of "Smiling" Bill Parsons' absurdities. A Gaumont news weekly of current events makes the program overflowing with features.

Hart doffs chaps for sea boots in "Shark Monroe." He is the embodiment of cruelty—another Sea Wolf and a terror to the Pacific seacoast. Then the influence of a woman comes into his life and works the transformation. Until swayed by a gentler sentiment, however, Hart is the bad man of the seas instead of the plains. His ruthlessness is dove-tailed into a story that bristles with action and furnishes a thrill for the spectator with almost every flicker of the screen.

And so it is that drama and comedy run the gamut of the Broadway's new bill—the drama by Hart and the humor by Parsons and his company of fun-makers and a Mack Sennett scream. Current news events as supplied by the Gaumont weekly provide a goodly share of the interest shown on the program.

"KINGDOM OF YOUTH" AMERICAN SUCCESS.

When an elderly woman becomes infatuated with a young man, who has recently taken unto himself a youthful wife, there's trouble brewing. If, perchance, the young couple have been secretly married and desire to keep any one from learning of their union it's mighty trying on the young wife to see a scheming woman, twice the age of the young husband, resort to all sorts of methods to win his affections.

"That's just what happens in "The Kingdom of Youth" the new Goldwyn production which commenced a three-days' engagement at the American Theater yesterday. Madge Kennedy and Tom Moore appear in the laughable comedy-drama as the newlyweds.

These two versatile stars have been assigned roles in this excellent play that are particularly suited to their remarkable comedy and dramatic talents and their work is artistic.

While "The Kingdom of Youth" is primarily a comedy-drama it also has its tense, dramatic situations which are not devoid of excitement and thrills.

An additional feature on the same program is a powerful drama, "In Judgment Of," an absorbing play, strong in its appeal to the emotions and carrying an unusual theme. Starring in this forceful drama are Anna Q. Nilsson and Franklyn Farnum, two stars of wonderful personality and exceptional ability who have a remarkable following in this city.

An animated weekly, vividly depicting events of importance and interest that have recently occurred in various parts of the world is thoroughly enjoyed by everyone who appreciates getting the latest news served while it's hot.

VARIED PROGRAM OFFERED AT T. AND D.

Swift-moving in action with never-failing interest to the spectator, "A Diplomatic Mission" at the T. and D. Theater today and tomorrow has the added magnetism of an Oakland boy's presence in the title role. Earle Williams is the chap who throttles conspiracies and saves his American sweetheart and if you don't feel like standing up and cheering while he performs these stunts, you're lacking in patriotism. In contrast to the heavier type of down-with-kultur dramas, "A Diplomatic Mission" contains a plausible plot and its action is never allowed to border on the melodramatic. Williams furnishes an altogether convincing characterization and his given able support.

"Bread," with Mary MacLaren is the second big screen feature on the same program. It is a drama that will tug at the heartstrings. Notable in relation to its production is the fact that a woman wrote the story and a woman directed the picture. With Mary MacLaren in the principal role there is a feminine appeal to the very atmosphere and color of the picture that raises it to the plane of the unusual.

The heroine of this amazing story is made to choose between two paths in life—the one that leads to the rouge pots of the painted woman—and the other that boasts of no reward save that which virtue offers to its sex. Just as the title of the picture is "Bread"—so is its theme—and upon bread hinges the fate of the heroine. How she extricates herself from a difficult situation makes an absorbing story.

The third feature on the bill is provided by the fourteenth allied war review which is again prolific in the interest that centers upon west front happenings.

Organist Charles Wilson is heard in a special organ recital.

Who's Flirt? It's Problem At Orpheum

Who is the flirt in the "Pair of Tickets" story at the Orpheum, the boy or the girl? After seeing Wilbur Mack and Gladys Lockwood and their company in the extremely dainty and entertaining bit the question persists in repeating itself.

Of course, every one will say that Mack is the flirt. But that is, in the opinion of the reviewer, not the case. He admittedly is "pursuing" her, bent on getting acquainted, while until he finally corners her she appears to be entirely a disinterested party.

Ah, but there is art in this flirting game, as Miss Lockwood will contend, and one fears that her mastery of it deceives us. Personally, the reviewer is quite confident that she is the flirt, while Mack is the poor boob. But it is not a question for one of inexperience to attempt to solve.

What is clear, however, is that the act, altogether an unusually artistic bit of work, heads a bill that keeps your interest jogged at all times.

Surprising originality is attained in the act, "Shoes." The scene is a shoe store, but you think it is a harem or something. It is a valuable suggestion to the shoe merchants. If one could buy shoes in such a dainty shop, one would not kick so much about the prices. Credit for the few moments of entertainment it gives us is due to Bayonne Whipple and Walter Huston. And just to make it worth while they give it a sort of allegorical twist to teach us how to be happy.

Nate Leipzig, the card expert, has the cards hypnotized, either that or his audience. He makes them do impossible things, for example: Selecting two cards and placing them together inside the deck, he shuffles the deck and wraps it in a paper. Then he jabs a knife through the paper, guaranteeing that when the paper is torn off the knife will be between the two cards, regardless of what position they occupy in the shuffled deck. Sure enough! You can't figure such stuff, and this trick is only one of a dozen card miracles he does.

Loscova and C. Gilmore in song and dance divertisements, present a highly artistic performance. "Waiting for Her" is the title of the vehicle in which El Brendel and Flo Bert transport amusement. Rev. Frank W. Gorman, the "Singing Parson," is a good singer, whatever else you may think of his act, or his actions. He says he and Billie Sunday are both in the game for the money, and he does not try to earn his share by preaching.

Eddie Emerson and Jerry Baldwin are entertaining as juggling comedians. Descriptions of the acts are supplied by James J. Morton. After hearing him announce the acts one is ashamed to try to say anything about them. Morton is an innovation, and he works all through the show.—J. D.

"CUDDLES" IS IN FILM AT FRANKLIN.

"Cuddles" Lee, at the Franklin theater this week, in her first Paramount picture, is in a class all by herself, and "The Cruise of the Make-Believe" is a joy to the blase reviewer.

"Cuddles," like her name, is distinctive. She can tell a long story with those beautiful black eyes, she can display a wealth of glossy black hair that defies competition, and can leave an impression that keeps pulling at your heart strings.

As for the story, its message is happiness, and who doesn't prefer happiness to thrills? "The Cruise of the Make Believe" is full of the philosophy of "Daddy Long Legs," and of course "Cuddles" is the girl in the case. The first cruise leads to love, and although only a little tenement girl, the last cruise is on a real honest to goodness "yacht."

A pictograph, a weekly, and a splendid Outing Tour complete the program at the Franklin theater under Kinema management.

Counterfeits.
Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:
"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trade-mark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.
Conger Bros. of St. Paul, Minn., say: "Fletcher's Castoria is certainly full of merit and worthy of recommendation."
C. G. A. Loder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."
The Scholtz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."
Hoagland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."
Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."
Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."
D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ills., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."
The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

NERVES UNSTRUNG BY RUSH OF WORK

In these war times we all want to keep ourselves at the highest point of efficiency to be able to do our share in the many demands for service that are made on all. Unless you stop the mental fatigue and build up your nerves you will be fortunate if you escape nervous breakdown, some form of paralysis or other severe nervous disorder.

"The strain of a rush of work at the ill, due to war orders, was getting on my nerves," says Mr. Thomas Wagner of 67 Marshall street, Lowell, Mass., "and I had stomach trouble. My appetite was poor and I could not digest food. I was uneasy all the time. I was restless and rolled and tossed about in bed. When I got up I did not feel like working. A friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I gave them a trial. I soon noticed that they were helping me. I can eat better and have more ambition. My nerves are steadier and I rest well at night. I certainly can recommend these pills after what they have done for me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nerve tonic. They build up the nerves in the only possible way, by enriching the blood with elements the nerves need. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved useful in so many severe cases that every sufferer is justified in giving them a trial for any form of nervous debility. They contain no opiate or harmful drug.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price fifty cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free book on nervous disorders.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicines for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, but is also pleasant to take, which is important when a medicine must be given to young children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been in use for many years and has met with much favor wherever its good qualities have become known. Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement. Wm. Scruby, Chillicothe, Mo., writes, "I have raised three children, have always used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it to be the best for coughs, colds and croup. It is pleasant to take. Both adults and children like it. My wife and I have always felt safe from croup with it in the house." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic. For sale by Osgood Bros.' MRS. DAVISON TELLS WOMEN OF WAR WORK

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Henry P. Davison, chairman of the women's committee of the united war work campaign, and wife of Henry P. Davison of the war work council of the American Red Cross, arrived here today from Los Angeles with a message to women of the San Francisco bay region of the importance of women as a military factor in the winning of the war.

The purpose of Mrs. Davison's tour throughout the country is not to organize women for work during the campaign or to make plans for it, but to present to representatives of the various women's organizations the great good to be done with the Red Cross fund for women, so that when the time for the drive comes women will be able to stand shoulder to shoulder and do their part. She was the guest of the local organization and 400 of its members at the Palace Hotel this afternoon immediately following. Mrs. Davison took a prominent part in the annual meeting of the California Red Cross which was called at 3 o'clock.

"Women have the same call to the colors as men have, though in a different way," said Mrs. Davison. "When our men went into service we began to realize that women must be ready to take the vacant places in industry. Men who entered the army received training before going into battle. Women who went into industry were attempting something entirely different from their previous experience. This vast army of women, working in munition cantonments, cheerless places cut off from the outside world because of the dangerous nature of the work, find no recreation at the end of a hard day's work. Realizing this the government is building large clubhouses for women and trained workers are needed in these clubs to organize recreation and see that the women workers are kept well and contented. This is just one piece of work being done by women for women. There are many other things, such as housing, hostess work and the help being given foreign-born women in interpreting to them the laws and customs of their new country. The $170,000,000 drive which will be begun next Monday for the seven uniting organizations, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., National Catholic War Council, Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, War Camp Community Service and American Library Association, will include this work for women. Because of this I am enlisting women who represent women's organizations in the cities which I am visiting asking them to carry the word of women's work in the war to all women."

Mrs. Davison leaves this evening for Portland, Ore., to continue her tour of cities on the western coast.

LIGHT SHOWERS THROUGH STATE ARE FORECASTED

Light showers of rain through the state are indicated by observations of the weather bureau at the Merchants' Exchange in San Francisco today. Forecaster G. H. Willson said this morning that he did not anticipate any serious damage to the fruit crop as a result of the present precipitation.

According to Willson the present rain is due to the recent hot spell. The barometer, he said, does not indicate a general or heavy rainstorm. "A heavy fall of rain at this time," said the forecaster, "would do incalculable damage to the fruit crop." Clear weather is predicted for tomorrow and Wednesday.

DEATH OF SON TO UNITE EHRGOTTS

The death of their 17-year-old son, Alfred Ehrgott Jr., in an automobile accident, in which his mother, Mrs. Sara Bard Field, sustained serious injury, will probably unite Mrs. Field and the husband she divorced three years ago when she assumed her maiden name. Mrs. Field was driving her machine on a steep road outside San Rafael Saturday afternoon when the brakes refused to work and the car went crashing to the bottom of the gulch. Passing motorists took the little party, consisting of Mrs. Field, her daughter, Albert Ehrgott Jr., and Edwin Wood, to the hospital. The lad died on the way. The daughter was the only one of the party uninjured.

Albert Ehrgott Sr., whose home is at 1553 Le Conte avenue, Berkeley, was in Sacramento when news of the accident reached him. He hastened to San Rafael. Misunderstandings were dwarfed before the tragedy. It is said Ehrgott asked his former wife to remarry him. Devotion to her work on behalf of woman suffrage and literary labors were charges in the divorce suit of three years ago.

Mrs. Field will be unable to attend the funeral of her son, which will be held tomorrow. However, Ehrgott has made arrangements whereby she may be carried to the funeral parlors to bid the lad farewell before the services.

Ehrgott is the survey and promotion manager of the Law Enforcement League. Formerly he was a missionary. Mrs. Field is one of the best-known suffrage workers on the coast. Ehrgott has reiterated his love for his former wife and his determination to again marry her. Mrs. Field has been living at 1607 Taylor avenue, Ran Rafael, since her divorce.

Red Cross Notes

Boys and girls in the Pacific Division, Junior Red Cross, have commenced work on 70,000 scrapbooks, to be sent to convalescent American soldiers overseas. Junior Red Cross members all over the United States are similarly at work to supply the coveted reading matter to men in hospitals in France.

Allotment orders have been sent out from division headquarters to junior auxiliaries in California, Nevada and Arizona. Samples of the scrapbooks are to be forwarded to Mrs. H. A. Kluegel, director of the Bureau of Junior Red Cross, to make sure that they are made after the accepted model.

Neutrality Squad Report Rendered

The Oakland Police Department Neutrality Bureau has handled more than 500 "work or fight" cases in the three months of its existence, and has inducted 50 men into the army, and put nearly 600 to work. This is part of the record contained in the first formal report of the bureau, filed with Chief J. H. Nedderman yesterday by Captain T. Brown, head of the bureau.

The report shows that the bureau has handled 1383 alien enemy cases, causing their registration. Of these, 807 were men and 576 women. In connection with the disposition of these cases, Captain Brown declared that every effort has been made to give "aliens a square deal," and adds that there is proof that the department has succeeded in demonstrating its fairness in the fact that 196 aliens have moved in this period from other places to Oakland.

The bureau has made 482 arrests, 26 of these being for making seditious remarks. Of these 9 have been convicted, and given six months' imprisonment.

250 INVESTIGATIONS.

The bureau has made 250 slacker investigations, and has handled 100 allotment cases, 62 outside correspondence cases, 357 miscellaneous investigations, 61 pro-German cases, 96 false registrations and two Mann white slave act cases.

Brown recommended in his report that members of the police department be authorized to solicit subscriptions on their beats for Liberty Bonds, with the prospect of a three-day's leave for those obtaining the largest subscriptions. He said he believed the department could undoubtedly "put Oakland over the top."

BROWN'S REPORT.

Brown gave high praise to the assistance given Oakland's volunteer war police. In this connection he wrote:

"I beg leave to report that the women and men appointed by Commissioner F. F. Jackson to act as volunteer war police, have been a great help and asset to this office, which is one of the most important branches of the police department.

"This office has been the sifting ground of the profiteers who to all good Americans look like people with blood that moves like so much asphaltum—the kind of people who are attempting to take advantage of the red-blooded Americans who are giving their last drop of blood to make this world a decent place to live in. The Moratorium Act was passed so that the dependents of soldiers will not be put out upon the streets because of these profiteers and kaiser lovers who think more of the almighty dollar than they do of their God or country.

LLOYD TO BE FLYER.

Will Lloyd, English actor, who has filled many engagements at the Bishop and Macdonough playhouses, will have the whole world for a stage when he goes flying for the allies. He leaves today for Nova Scotia, where he will go into quarantine for ten days and then depart for England to enter training. His call came yesterday, forwarded from Portland, where he has finished an engagement. Lloyd is the second actor from Oakland to gain admission to the Royal British Flying Corps.

Men Chosen for Special Training

Oakland local boards will send eight young men, graduates of the grammar school, to Spokane and the University of Nevada, to fill a special call for men to be trained along special mechanical and industrial lines. Alameda county, outside of the incorporated cities, will send one and other adjacent counties and cities will supply the following quotas:

Napa county 4, San Mateo 1, Santa Clara 11, Monterey 13, Fresno 13, San Jose City 6, San Francisco 12, and Santa Cruz 2. These men volunteer and are given an intensive course of training in the lines for which the individual seems best fitted to qualify.

Many Cruelties Are Charged in Lawsuit

That her husband locked her out of the house all night, that he attacked her when she was going home from a theater with women friends and choked her, and that his jealousy drives him to extreme acts of cruelty, are the principal allegations in the divorce complaint of Genevieve Lewis filed today against Henry Lewis, an employee of the Scandia Pacific Oil Company.

Boy Shoots Self, Playing With Gun

Riley Peek, age 16, residing at 2041 Eleventh avenue, accidentally shot himself in the left breast today while playing with a 22-calibre rifle. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his recovery was pronounced uncertain.

The family are in quarantine as the result of a case of Spanish influenza in the home, and they asked that the boy be sent to the County Hospital.

HELD TO ANSWER.

George L. Hobbs, charged with robbing George Littell, a shipyard worker, of a watch chain and charm on the morning of October 3, was this morning held to answer to the Superior Court in the sum of $5000 for robbery. Hobbs has a criminal record, according to the police, having a term in San Quentin and in various city and county jails for petty crimes.

PASTORS TO MEET.

The Oakland Ministers' Federation will meet Tuesday morning at 10:30 at the First Congregational Church. In addition to the regular business the special committee on publicity and a campaign among the new residents of the city is expected to report.

Man Trips on Board and Injures Child

Ralph Kreiss, 3-year-old son of A. Kreiss, 3822 Clark street, was severely injured last night when A. Hoffman, 486 Forty-third street, tripped over a broken board in a sidewalk in front of 3816 Telegraph avenue and fell on the child. The boy's skull was badly bruised.

Soldier Dies After Long Sickness

Private William H. Fulcher of Co. E., 23d Engineers, passed away Sunday evening at the Oaks Sanitarium after a long siege of sickness contracted in the army. William H. Fulcher enlisted in the army on the 2d of November, 1917. He is the son of William H. Fulcher, 254 Park View Terrace, Oakland, Cal

ALBERT KERZEL DEAD.

Albert Kerzel, son of Robert Kerzel, 587 Merrimac street, Oakland, died last Friday at Charleston, S. C., after a brief illness, according to word received by his father. Kerzel was in service with the United States navy. The body will be brought to this city for burial. The young man was 27 years old. Surviving are the father, a brother, Otto C. Kerzel, and two sisters, Mrs. V. O. Post and Mrs. H. Stencel.

Shipyard Employee Commits Suicide

After penning and carefully sealing a note to his wife, Joseph Cloren, formerly a special police officer at the Melrose, East Oakland station, and recently employed at the Alameda shipyards, committed suicide last night at the Melrose Apartments, 4554 East Fourteenth street. Ill health is thought to be the cause for the suicide.

Mrs. Cloren is at present visiting friends at Modesto, and the contents of the note will not be learned until she returns. No date has been set for the inquest.

MISNER IS HONORED.

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—Jackson H. Misner, harbor manager of Richmond, has been elected as one of the vice-presidents of the Ports of the Pacific Association which has concluded its sessions in Los Angeles. The convention was a gathering of the managers of the various ports on this coast. H. M. Wade, city traffic manager, also attended the meeting.

SUES CAR COMPANY.

Alleging severe personal injuries as the result of a collision between her automobile and a street car, Alma Maxim has sued the traction company for $10,110 damages. The accident occurred last May at Thirteenth and Jackson.

President Wilson wants your attention just a moment—

He has issued the following statement about the Fourth Liberty Loan which he wants you to read:

"RECENT events have enhanced—not lessened—the importance of this loan, and I hope that my fellow countrymen will let me say this to them very frankly:

"The best thing that could happen would be that the loan should not only be fully subscribed, but very greatly oversubscribed.

"We are in the midst of the greatest exercise of the power of this country that has ever been witnessed or forecast, and a single day of relaxation in that effort would be of tragical damage alike to ourselves and to the rest of the world.

"Nothing has happened which makes it safe or possible to do anything but push our effort to the utmost.

"The time is critical, and the response must be complete."

Answer your President's appeal—double your subscription.

Do not think that when you have put all your available cash in bonds that you have done all that is expected of you. There is not enough ready money in the United States to subscribe the $6,000,000,000—the government wants your future savings. Use your credit to the limit—buy bonds on installments—pay for them out of what you can save in the months to come.

What you can buy conveniently doesn't count—it's the bonds bought through saving—through skimping-through doing without—that will win this war.

"The time is Critical—the response must be complete."

You must double your subscription

THE GERMAN PEACE MOVE.

Prince Maximilian, the German chancellor and official spokesman of the German government, has given in written form a statement which seems to embody acceptance of the conditions President Wilson has in several public utterances described as his conception of the foundation of a peace between the central powers and the Entente group of belligerents. That much and no more may be said.

That part of the note which is an answer to the President's question as to whether Prince Max speaks merely for those constituted authorities who have been responsible for the conduct of the war is disappointing. The meaning of the President's question was unmistakable; he referred to those officials who go to make up that "ugly-faced thing without conscience, without honor and without the power for covenanted peace." Dr. Solf, Philip Scheidemann, Von Payer and others of the Maximilian cabinet were part and parcel, willing instruments and enthusiastic applauders, of the governments of Bethmann-Hollweg, Michaelis and Hertling; and always upholders of kaiserdom and military atrocities. They approved the sending of such criminals as Von Bernstorff, Von Luxburg, Von Papen, Boy-Ed, Hugo Muensterburg and Franz Bopp into neutral countries. They endorsed the Brest-Litovsk betrayal of Russia.

We must bear in mind every minute of the day that force is the thing that has driven those who presume to speak as a German government to a willingness to resort to peace talk; whether they talk honestly or in the hope of perpetrating further deception has not been determined. Apparently, Chancellor Maximilian has made his present move in good faith. But the Ally world cannot afford to forget the terrible record of treachery and bad faith for what appears to be one sincere act.

That force which has compelled Germany to turn to the merciful devices of peace overtures, that force which America has thrown into the conflict "without stint or limit," must be continued if the present situation in the enemy country is carried to a conclusion happy and desirable for the Allies.

Germany appears to be in the process of disillusionment regarding the military strength of the Allies and the extent and effectiveness of American effort. If peace is to come it is to be credited to deeds of the military forces directed by Field Marshal Foch. General Pershing and Field Marshal Haig, the American, French and British corps and division commanders, the officers and soldiers under them at the battlefront, are the best diplomatic representatives for dealing with the Germans. Whatever the statesmen in the various Ally capitals may do or say, it is the soldiers in the field and the people at home that are giving significance to their efforts.

The German government is composed in part of the same men who have conducted the war in the past. That government is still prosecuting ruthlessness and outlawry. It is destroying cities without military reason; impressing civilians in occupied territory into military service; bombing Red Cross hospitals; sinking merchant ships without warning and without providing for the safety of passengers and crews—still endeavors to sink these vessels "without leaving a trace." The German people are unrepentant of what has been done in their name. The terms of the Allies will be hard terms for Germany, though not as severe as they should be. If Germany can avoid complying with any of them she will do so.

We must bear in mind that we are still waging war. We must continue to mobilize our strength and send it against the enemy. Germany will hear that the news that she had agreed to accept in principle President Wilson's terms was received in America with distrust and without enthusiasm; that the sentiment of this great people is regret that Germany may possibly escape some of the punishment she so richly deserves.

Let Germany know also that the American people are united for a program of enforced compliance with every Ally condition and for no compromise on any point.

The Boche, captured in a French village which he and his companions had devastated, and who upon showing apprehension was reassured that personal harm would not befall him, illustrated the German expectation of reprisal when he wondered what the French soldiers will do when they get into Germany. It seems to be very difficult, if not impossible, for the German mind to comprehend a point of view different from its own—to understand that all peoples are not obsessed with barbarous impulses. It is not probable that the French soldiery would approach the excesses that the Huns have been guilty of, even if they were not restrained. But the general feeling is that they are entitled to go some ways in retaliation when their opportunity comes.

DEAL ANOTHER BLOW.

There is one direct and specific way in which the people may give vital support to the government of the United States and the efforts to force a victorious peace upon Germany. It is in the purchase of Fourth Liberty Loan bonds.

Oversubscription of this six-billion-dollar loan will have a psychologic effect that was not foreseen before the present peace effort of Berlin was launched. It will be another portent of Germany's inevitable vanquishment.

The money is necessary to the government. Over half of it has been spent in advance and the remainder obligated under contracts for material. If peace should come today all the money derived from the present loan would be needed and it would be necessary to float another loan to close up the business of the war.

But the war is not over. Field operations in Europe must continue for months. Evacuation of all Ally territory, including Rumania and Russia, must be forced upon Germany. After that a great Ally force must be maintained in Europe for a further period—until reparation in Belgium and France is an accomplished fact and the frontiers of these two countries made safe against another German attack. It is America's business to see that this line is forever secure. We cannot forget that it was Belgium and France that stood between us and a ruthless enemy for three years—while we slumbered.

Only one week, the present, remains in which to buy Fourth Liberty Loan bonds. President Wilson has made special appeals to the people to buy to the limit. Whatever course he may follow in dealing with the new efforts of the enemy, support of the people in this loan will help him; it is essential.

Stand by the President and back up the men on the battlefront. This is your duty today.

SAME OLD SCANDAL.

Federal Judge W. W. Morrow and representatives of American citizens of Chinese origin have again directed attention to the wretched bureaucracy maintained on Angel Island by the Bureau of Immigration. There petty officials of the government ignore the rights of citizens and aliens beyond all decent conscience and commit misdeed after misdeed without punishment from the government.

Neither the Chinese interests nor Judge Morrow have indicated a wish that the laws of the country or the rules formulated for administering the Chinese immigration act be changed. There is simply a complaint against the miserable condition of indifference and inefficiency. Persons entering the port whose right to land is questioned are detained for weeks and months and in some cases over a year. Some of them die in detention. In every case where it is possible they are forbidden the privilege of communicating with counsel and taking their wrongs to the courts. There is no excuse for such delay and the deprivation of rights guaranteed under our laws.

Chinese filing complaint have shown a desire to clear the man in charge of the San Francisco office of the immigration bureau of responsibility for the conditions that have been condemned time and again. But if he is not to blame, who is? Commissioner White, Mr. Anthony Caminetti, chief of the immigration service, and Secretary of Labor Wilson are the three men who must share most of the blame for the condition Judge Morrow condemns.

THE TRIBUNE has repeatedly called attention to Angel Island conditions. Administration politics seem to protect it securely for the time being. Indictments against officials of the bureau for smuggling in Chinese aliens are quashed, charges of corruption are hushed up and the evidence seized and securely stored away in a bureau agent's office. Employees commit crimes and are let off with a dismissal from office.

So long as the responsible officials of the Department of Labor and the Immigration Bureau tolerate and cooperate in such tactics Angel Island will be a place where the rights of a few, including helpless children, will be ignored and the interests of the country with regard to aliens of sophisticated cunning will be neglected.

Accepting the President's terms involves something more than merely saying so. It involves such action as getting out of invaded countries, and omitting to devastate on the way, and of manifesting a willingness to accept the decrees of the Allied countries for which the President speaks. The attitude that is necessary to such acceptance cannot be camouflaged.

The Senatorial contest in Michigan is watched with consuming interest. Henry Ford is the Democratic nominee, though a Republican and announcing that he will be an independent if elected. Truman H. Woodberry, secretary of the navy in the second Roosevelt administration, is the Republican nominee. Normally, Michigan is heavily Republican. But Mr. Ford was urged into the fight by the President

NOTES and COMMENT

The Hooverizing idea prevails as to everything, even language. Thirteen letters may be saved in referring to the Spanish influenza. When you make it "flu" everybody will get you.

The veteran of eighty who regrets the limitations that preclude his response to his country's call illustrates the spirit. In proof of his earnestness it is to be taken in account that he responded to the last great call of his country, thus establishing that he is no mere mouther.

The news from Russia would horrify the world if its sensibilities had not been blunted by four years of barbarities committed by a people far less excusable. Let us feel assured that a better civilization will get around to considering conditions in that distracted country in the near future.

* * *

It has been said that the numbers of the German regiments and names of officers responsible for many of the barbarities that have been and are being practiced in the invaded zones have been taken and are being preserved for future consideration. Many of these acts so far transcend the rules of war and dictates of common humanity that they certainly demand a reckoning.

* * *

The two-million mark is being neared in the presence of our soldiers on the other side—who, according to the enemy couldn't get over, and wouldn't fight if they did get over, and wouldn't amount to anything if they fought. The Huns may take what satisfaction is possible as to their very confident prophesy from the latest advices from the firing line.

* * *

Such slight concessions as the change of governors for Alsace, supplanting the one who appears to have been a true Prussian by the province's representative in the Reichstag, will be of no avail. The iron must be in the souls of the people of that province, who have been under the Hun heel for fifty years, and it is not to be removed by such an inconsiderable and belated concession as that.

William Hauhuth has been boring for oil on his place near Vallejo for over a year. A depth of over 2000 feet has been reached and natural gas has been struck, but only a slight trace of oil has been found. Boring has been stopped and an effort will be made to put the gas to use.—Solano Courier.

The fish cannery location fight is still on in Santa Cruz, although reported differently in the Surf and News; and while we all admit that sardines are good to eat, this difference of opinion should be expressed with less heat. In our many and constant wants Santa Cruz is always out of meat—in this case fish, but always succeeds in living till the contending parties on a compromising basis meet.—Santa Cruz Sentinel.

Twenty-two minutes was the time Charlie Chaplin struggled to land a marlin swordfish Sunday. There wasn't a camera within six miles, as the famous movie star reeled, pumped and sweat—just like any other angler. Raw spots on his hands indicate that the fish was a stubborn fellow. It weighed 162 pounds—several more pounds than the actor-angler himself—and was nearly twice his length. Fifty-six times during the struggle the beautiful "tiger of the sea" came tearing out of the water. Once it stood on its tail, gliding around at the end of the line—an action similar to that of the comedian himself as he slides around a corner on one foot.—Avalon Islander.

FEAR.

I am afraid to see the autumn come,
Bringing a strangeness on our friendly hill,
Turning familiar ways austere and still,
And all our singing world gone dull and dumb.
There will be want of brightening wing and bloom,
Of robins in the nest we watched today;
And little things we loved that could not stay,
Frail things and fair that find a dusty doom.

All this lies on my heart like prophesy;
These are of death and death's unhappy fame;
And should I ask it not—for fear or shame—
Will you not come that day and speak to me,
Saying your usual things, the while we sit
Quite close—quite close—when our first fires are lit.

MAY TRY TO CROSS HOLLAND.

Major General William Crozier, commanding this department, recalled that when a West Point cadet he, with others, passed their 1883 vacation in a walking tour down the Moselle valley to observe its military establishments and work out its strategic value in previous and future campaigns.

As a result, he said, he was following the new drive by General Pershing with absolute familiarity with the vicinity in which operations are now on. Of all the points on the battle front, he says, it is the logical one for the present drive. It is the end of the mountains, which obstruct great operations further south, and the hilly country gradually becomes perfect military ground as it goes north.

He pointed out that Holland reaches down like a great salient between Belgium and Germany, only a comparatively few miles above the point where the American troops have started. If the Americans drive north, as he believes is the strategy, the Germans, with their rear threatened, to get out of Belgium may try to go across Holland. If that country permits such a move the same rights will immediately be taken by the allies, as well as the invaluable use of Holland's ports and the Rhine route.—Boston Globe.

ARMY OF AMAZONS.

Six million British and Irish women, according to Harold Begbie, who calls them "the army of Amazons who saved us," give all their time to work that is essential to the war. Their ratio to total population, if applied to our population on the continent, would enlist 13,000,000 American women in the same sorts of service. Three million of those 6,000,000 British and Irish women are in chemical industries, in dockyards, in metal specialties, in ordnance details and textile work. They are the truest heroines behind the fighting fronts. They perform tasks so difficult that it was supposed no woman could do them, so dangerous that no man dreamed of asking a woman to attempt them. Commerce and finance absorbed nearly 1,000,000 women; hotels, theaters, transportation and various services over 500,000; military activities, 200,000; farming, 74,000; hospital recruits, 64,000.—Spokane Review.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

How "Putting the Glands to Rights" May Cure Hatred.

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

A thoroughly frightened person cannot expectorate. The "bad" man or "tough" tries to show his bravado and absence of fear to "all-comers" by spitting sharply and forcibly. If you have read the researches of modern physiologists presented in my various articles, you know that the emotion of fear is associated with the overflow of the thyroid, adrenal, intestinal glands, and a cessation of action of the salivary glands.

These chronic triplet offspring of fear, doubt, despair and cowardice have been found by physiologists to abide in those whose glandular tissues are diseased, weak, fatigued or otherwise below par. One of the happy results of training camps, setting up exercises and physical deeds of daring, is in the elimination of the emotions of fear, timidity, despair, doubt, hesitation and cowardice.

When you are angry your adrenal glands pour forth more than the normal quantity of adrenalin. Whether the sensations or perceptions aroused by the outside impression moves the glands to work first and thus initiate the physical emotion called anger, or whether anger starts an instant sooner was in doubt until experiments proved that the emotion of anger, fear and others could be reproduced by artificial inoculations of these gland substances.

The hushed face, tense skin and muscles and elevated blood pressure, all signs of anger, are part and parcel of the effects of adrenalin and its allied glands. "Hatred is a settled anger." When an individual suffers this chronic sort of madness you may suspect that his adrenal or some similar glands are overactive. At any rate, they should be investigated.

Just as "passion seeks aid from its opposite passion," so physiologically, nature attempts to combat the overflow of these glands which generate fear, anger, excitement or other emotions. Love is sometimes disguised in hate, fear and admiration become intermingled with envy and hypocrisy. The braggadocia of the cowardly braggart is of the same sort. The adrenal glands are then summoned and stimulated artificially to overcome the over-production of the thyroid, thymus and other glands.

If the various lymph glands, the thyroid, pituitary, thymus, adrenalin, pineal and parathyroid glands are healthy the emotions will be stable and not nuisances to you and your friends. On the other hand, if you are inclined to exaggerate, to be hypersensitive, to overdo the sympathy and martyr act for yourself, to be psychaesthenic, neurasthenic, neurotic, nervous, irritable, jealous, easily angered, see to it that you do not overwork your glands and allow them to become tired or diseased or in some fashion over-stimulated.

AN ESSENTIAL PRELIMINARY.

The war map is now almost identically the same as it was last winter, and last winter Americans concluded that with the war map what it was peace negotiations such as were proposed by the central powers were impossible, unless we were ready to conclude a German peace. The capacious bag of the central powers is still full, and ever overflowing with booty; and on the spoils in their possession they will trade it if the other side gives them the chance. Austria-Hungary aside, the war map must be considerably changed if one is to negotiate peace with the German imperial government. Who sups with the devil must have a long spoon.—Springfield Republican.

GREAT BOND DRIVE RE-CANVASS IS LAUNCHED TODAY

'100 PER CENT' CARDS WILL BE ISSUED

District.	Quota	Amount Subscribed To Date
Oakland	$13,320,350	$ 7,293,600
Berkeley	2,351,700	2,463,850
Alameda	900,150	1,021,400
Emeryville	86,250	88,500
Hayward	335,950	188,400
Livermore	258,700	220,700
Pleasanton	160,850	136,300
San Leandro	300,500	220,100
Washington Township	318,050	227,350
County Total	$18,191,500	$11,860,200

Renewed energy backed up by a determination to put Oakland and Alameda county "over the top" of their respective quotas in the fourth Liberty Loan characterized the beginning of the final week's drive of the campaign this morning when the Liberty Loan workers launched a general and sweeping recanvass of the residental and business sections of the city.

Tomorrow every person who either doubles his original subscription or buys another bond of any denomination will be supplied with a new badge of honor, provided such a subscriber presents a receipt for a previous subscription to the fourth loan. All of the local banks are today being supplied with these badges. They bear the inscription "I Bought Again" lettered in black on a red field. They are to be worn as were the Honor Day badges attached to coat lapels with the official fourth Liberty Loan button.

Many of the homes of the city are said to be qualifying for the new 100 per cent home cards which are being issued by the home canvass department through the various district captains and their lieutenants in the different precincts of the city. The conditions upon which these new 100 per cent home cards are issued are as follows:

Every house or home in Oakland wherein every wage-earning occupant has subscribed $100 to the fourth Liberty Loan; every home wherein each wage-earning occupant has, in the opinion of the district captain, subscribed to the limit of his or her ability; every home which in the opinion of the district captain is deserving of one of these cards.

It is pointed out by the committee that it is not the intention of the district captains to embarrass any family or home in the distribution of the home cards. They will be furnished in every instance that the captains or lieutenants are convinced that homes are deserving of them. The cards can not be obtained at the general committee headquarters in the city hall, explains the committee executives; they must be obtained from the district captains or lieutenants.

MADGE KENNEDY, popular screen star, who is appearing at the American in her newest production, "The Kingdom of Youth."

MADGE KENNEDY

The double-feature program now playing at the American until tomorrow night includes Madge Kennedy and Tom Moore in "The Kingdom of Youth," a delightful comedy-drama, and Anna Q. Nilsson and Franklyn Farnum in "In Judgment Of," a dramatic production of unusual theme. The latest animated weekly and a special Liberty Loan film complete the bill.

Commencing Wednesday the celebrated "Caillaux Case" will be presented.—Advertisement.

BOND ISSUE VITAL, SAYS KING

BUY BONDS, DESPITE RUMOR

J. H. KING,
Executive Chairman Liberty Loan Committee.

The scheming Hun is continuing his efforts to weaken the morale of the American and allied forces at home and overseas. The peace proposals, the proposals for an armistice, and latest, but not least, the reported acceptance by the kaiser of President Wilson's terms for peace, are nothing but new manifestations of pro-German propaganda in its most dangerous forms.

The immediate object of this insidious pro-Hun propaganda is the defeat of the Fourth Liberty Loan. Intelligent, loyal Americans recognize this. As yet no tangible basis for peace, or the end of the war, has been attained. War cannot end until the Huns have laid down their guns. This they have not done; they are still killing our men. Nothing short of an unconditional surrender, the complete laying down of all arms, the evacuation of all allied territory, can terminate the war.

Today there is nothing so dangerous to America as the failure of the Fourth Liberty Loan. Its failure is measurable only in the lives of our soldiers. More than ever before it is the patriotic duty of every American citizen to back up the Fourth Liberty Loan, to see that not only is the entire $6,000,000,000 issue subscribed, but that it is oversubscribed by a big margin. The failure of the loan may change over entirely the German mind, even if the present peace proposals were sincere, which no sensible man can possibly believe.

Citizens of Oakland must understand the importance of fulfilling its obligation in the Fourth Liberty Loan. We owe it to our own men who are fighting in France. We must not desert them now. We've got to back them up with our dollars in this loan. Our failure to do this is nothing short of helping Germany in the present crisis.

THREE FACE TRIAL FOR AUTO DEATHS

Three cases of alleged manslaughter arising from automobile accidents were on the calendars of the local police courts this morning. All were put over pending investigations and the inquests before the coroner's jury.

The latest of the three was that resulting from the death of Mrs. Adolph Moyer, 1239 East Twelfth street, who was run down last night at East Twelfth street and Thirteenth avenue. She was struck by an auto driven by Emery N. Young, 754 Fifty-eighth street, and died while being taken to the hospital. Young told the police that he had been driving at only twenty miles an hour and that the accident was unavoidable.

Albert Delke, police ambulance driver, who rushed to the scene of the accident, found that the injured woman was his aunt.

The other two cases on the court calendars are those of Miss Hazel Thornton, who last week collided with an automobile in which Frank J. Wilcox was riding, Wilcox being killed when the machine overturned; and Hans Enge, who was driving a machine which ran down and killed Mrs. Margaret Clancy.

AUTO DEALERS TO BUY MORE BONDS

By EDMUND CRINNION.

Tonight in the Pacific building the automobile dealers and members of allied crafts will assemble for the purpose of still further increasing the industry's subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds.

The call has been issued by General Chairman W. L. Webber, who states that it is necessary for the allied crafts, representing the automobile interests in Oakland to more than double their investments.

In charge of the work of increasing Liberty Bond subscriptions in the automobile industry are the following: W. L. Webber, general chairman; W. Wright, oil industry; Ben Hammond, auto dealers; Charles Avis, accessory dealers; I. L. Heitman, tire dealers; A. E. Berg, used car dealers; Walter Gilman, garagemen; Ernest Fetter, battery men; W. E. Strel, repairmen; and Scott Newcom, auto painters. Tonight's meeting will be held in the offices of Bob Martland, secretary of the Alameda County Trades Association.

NEW EXPRESS LINE.

The rural motor express organized between New York City and Stamford, Conn., by the Colt-Stratton Company, distributor of motor cars in New York, several months ago is being operated successfully, according to word received by H. O. Harrison Company, local distributors of Dodge Brothers' cars.

The truck, which is a Dodge Brothers' commercial car, makes a round trip daily. It leaves Stamford in the morning about 9 o'clock and reaches the service station of the company in New York about noon. After delivering and picking up work, the car returns to Stamford.

The rual expess seves the towns between New York and Stamford, averaging about seventy miles daily. Sundays excepted, operates on a time schedule, and its rates are slightly in excess of those of the express company. There is also a shopping service by means of wihch the driver will purchase merchandise for a customer.

The bulk of the shipments is from New York out and the motor car dealers, garages, supply houses, etc., are beginning to appreciate the day-line express, as it is called, as it enables them to obtain goods and material on the same day ordered, whereas by express the delay would amount to several days.

CANVASSES TRADE.

The driver of the Dodge Brothers' commercial car begins his duties about 7 each morning, and for two hours makes his rounds in Stamford as well as canvasses for new trade. In his spare time he visits the farmers and preaches the gospel of the rural express; and occasionally employs a day trying to sell transportation heads of companies in Stamford and places served by the truck.

At present the Dodge Brothers' vehicle picks up and delivers on both ends of the trip, also in the towns served. The associate dealers of the Colt-Stratton Company act as representatives of the express line and serve as stations, giving out information to possible shippers and advertising the service.

MOONEY BUYS BOND; STINTS ON LUXURIES

SAN QUENTIN, Oct. 14.—Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of the Preparedness Day bomb outrage and condemned to death, today invested $50 in a Liberty Bond.

Mooney wrote Ed Gammons, of the International Workers' Defense League that he saved the $50 by denying himself of cigarettes and other little luxuries.

"I'm sorry it isn't more," he declared.

Prisoners at San Quentin penitentiary subscribed $1450 yesterday to the Fourth Liberty Loan, and Warden J. A. Johnston, in sending the subscription to the Marin County Liberty Loan committee, said the prisoners will make a large showing before the campaign ends.

In the list of subscribers were four life-termers, two Chinese and two women. Charles Williams, a former United States sailor, bought a $50 bond with the proceeds from an artice he wrote for a nava magazine and turned the bond over as a gift to the Marin County Red Cross.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Unaffected by proposals of peace by Germany, the American people today set themselves to subscribe at least three billion dollars in the next six days to the Fourth Liberty Loan—the greatest financial task ever placed before the nation.

Reports to the Treasury today, based on information received from each of the twelve Federal Reserve districts, showed that total subscriptions received to date amount to only $3,000,000,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The twelfth federal reserve district's Liberty Loan total at noon today stood at $208,786,350, an increase of approximately $2,000,000 over Saturday night's figures. The district has subscribed 52 per cent of its quota, $402,000,000.

District loan headquarters here today received a radiogram from Honolulu stating that 19,572 persons had subscribed to the loan in the Hawaiian Islands. This section is the first in the district to report more subscribers than in the entire third loan.

Amadee, Nevada, consisting of one house on a desert, which had a quota of $900, reported this morning subscriptions totalling $2400.

In the ship naming contest, Los Angeles continues to gain on San Francisco in Class A and now shows a lead of about 10 per cent over this city.

Portland leads in Class B, with Seattle second and Oakland third. Tacoma is first in Class C; Berkeley in Class D and Eureka in Class E.

OAKLAND HAS YOUNGEST LOAN BOND OWNER

Oakland has the distinction of having the youngest Liberty loan bond owner in the United States. Robert Ware Greig, grandson of Robert Greig, past potentate of Aahmes Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, was born at 10:30 Saturday night, Liberty loan honor day, and immediately became the owner of a $100 bond of the fourth issue.

Airplane Gun Fires On Men in Camp

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Soldiers at Camp Mills, Long Island, received a tragic foretaste of war today when a machine gun attached to an airplane in flight accidentally went off, sending bullets among the men of a sanitary corps. One soldier was fatally wounded and two others hurt seriously.

OVER-SUBSCRIBE, URGES REQUA IN OAKLAND WIRE

Washington, D. C.,
October 12, 1918.

W. W. Garthwaite, General Chairman Alameda County Liberty Loan Committee, Oakland, Cal.:

Nothing at this time is so important as over-subscription of present Liberty loan. It will create an impression in Germany that cannot be over-estimated. Any failure would lend comfort and aid to the enemy. I am so profoundly convinced of the necessity for success of this loan as paramount to the success of another that you are authorized to double my subscription.

We are, I am sure, at the most critical time of the war; victory is in sight, unconditional surrender certain, provided the American people now stand firmly and do their part in supporting the administration here and the soldiers in France.

It would be an unpardonable crime to relax our efforts at this time; the Hun is on the run, but he is not yet licked.

(Signed)
MARK L. REQUA,
Fuel Oil Administrator.

'FAITH, REASON,' TOPIC OF LECTURE

"Faith and Reason" was the topic of the opening lecture by Rev. Bertrand L. Conway, at St. Mary's church Sunday evening. He said:

"The common objection of the modern unbeliever is about as reasonable as the denial of the existence of South Africa today, or of George Washington one hundred and fifty years ago, or the rejection of ocular testimony, because a particular individual is short-sighted, cross-eyed, or color-blind.

"It is strange that so many today, in the name of reason and science, refuse to accept the mysteries of faith. One would imagine that mystery or the incomprehensible was peculiar to religion, yet a moment's reflection will convince us that we are surrounded by mystery. In the order of nature, science finds it impossible to explain the simplest phenomena of light, heat, force, electricity. Science may tell of facts: that this earth of ours travels through space at the rate of a thousands miles a minute; that the sun, which weighs 300,000 times as much, is suspended, one knows not how, in an element more subtle than air; that the planets and the stars move in certain paths, so well defined that their position can be foretold a century hence if need be; that given certain conditions of light, heat, and moisture, the little seed will develop into a mighty tree; but to explain them, it can do no more than coin words which but veil the ignorance of their framers. 'I know,' said Newton, 'the laws of attraction; but if you ask me what attraction is, I really cannot tell.'

"If in religion the element of mystery were done away, our rational objector would instantly point in triumph to its human origin. What is a revelation that reveals nothing? What is a religion all of whose truths are within the compass of reason?"

This series of lectures continues all this week and next. The subject tonight is "The Corner Stone of Christianity."

CHECK WAVE OF INFLUENZA IN EASTBAY

Use of the motion picture theaters and schools to combat Spanish influenza will be the policy of the local health authorities, instead of the drastic plan of closing schools and theaters. This was announced today by Dr. F. F. Jackson, commissioner of public health and safety, and Dr. Kirby Smith, city health officer, today, following a meeting attended by more than 100 physicians of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley. The meeting was held in the city hall last night, and was taken up with an exhaustive discussion of the Spanish influenza situation.

"Prevention and education will be the policy in Oakland," Dr. Smith said today. "The moving picture houses will begin showing films today depicting the most effective precautions to be taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The TRIBUNE has been asked to publish information as to prevention and care of the disease, and has consented to do so. The schools will be the means of disseminating information among the children, and will also make possible the immediate reporting of cases which may occur among children.

CLOSING NOT NEEDED.

Dr. Smith declared that he believed the Eastbay cities will be able, unless the situation becomes much more alarming than at present, to avoid the necessity of closing theaters, churches or schools.

Of the case reported, now numbering close to 300, only about 50 per cent have proved to be the true Spanish influenza, the others being merely severe colds concerning which alarm was felt. There have been three deaths from pneumonia following Spanish influenza in the last eleven days, but this is not above the average death-rate from pneumonia in this district for this period of time on the beginning of the winter months, according to Dr. Smith.

TREATED AS INFLUENZA.

It was agreed at the meeting of physicians last night that every case of bad cold, inflammation of the membrane of throat and nose, and rising temperature, should be treated by doctors as a true case of influenza when first discovered, as a precautionary and preventive measure. This will not mean, however, that the homes in which such cases are found will be quarantined, but that the patient will be carefully isolated in the home, and that the family will be thoroughly instructed as to the proper manner of maintaining this isolation and preventing the communication of the disease. These methods will also be shown in the motion picture demonstrations.

Careful sterilization of all drinking cups, dishes and other utensils used by the person who is ill, isolation in one room, the wearing of a cloth bandage over the nose and mouth by the person attending in the sick room, the wearing of a separate overdress or big apron or wrapper while in the sick room, to be discarded on leaving—these and other similar precautions will be made the basis of the fight against the disease here.

Dr. Jackson presided over the meeting last night. The situation was discussed by Dr. Smith, Oakand health officer; Dr. A. Hieronymous, health officer of Alameda, and Dr. William Clark, Dr. E. N. Ewer, former city health officer of Oakland; Dr. Daniel Crosby, Dr. J. P. Maher, Dr. W. H. Streitman and a number of other prominent physicians.

DEATH IN BERKELEY.

BERKELEY, Oct. 14. — Berkeley's first death from Spanish influenza occurred at 4 o'clock this morning, when Mrs. Lena Higuera, 24-year-old wife of Fred Higuera, an employee of the Kawneer Manufacturing Co., succumbed to the disease at her home, 2400 Dwight way. Mrs. Higuera had been ill a week and had been in a critical condition for the past two days.

Mrs. Higuera is survived by a three-year-old child. She had made her home in Berkeley for the past three years, coming here from Salt Lake, where her parents made their home. Private funeral services were held this afternoon.

Owing to the spread of the influenza epidemic in Berkeley and adjoining communities a conference of health officials was called this afternoon by Dr. J. J. Benton, city health officer.

Mayor S. C. Irving of Berkeley this afternoon issued an order closing all motion picture houses in the city until the epidemic has abated.

CHECKED AT SAN JOSE.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 14.—With only 26 cases reported over Sunday, the Spanish influenza situation in San Jose was brighter than at any time for a week. Dr. W. C. Bailey, city manager and acting health officer, said that the rigid precautions against the spread of the disease had apparently begun to bear fruit, and he urged the public not to relax its vigilance.

George Broderick, a saloonman, was a victim of pneumonia following influenza yesterday. There are several other cases in hospitals and private homes which are said to be acute.

SELLING GOLD-PIECES, LATEST PEDDLER'S ACT

Selling gold pieces at a premium of 10 per cent is the latest get-rich-quick scheme of peddlers, who are reported to be operating in the Chinatowns of Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose. These men are said to be collecting every five, ten and twenty dollar gold piece they can obtain, and find ready victims who have a wont for collecting the yellow metal, in the hope of making a substantial profit in the future.

Complaints have reached the authorities, and secret service men, acting under direction of Secret Service Agent Harry M. Moffitt, will investigate the matter.

Lodge Apportions Cities' Bond Quotas

A unique plan being adopted by the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees in the placing of its contribution of $125,000 in the Fourth Liberty loan is to apportion this amount among its progressive cities accoding to their membership. Oakland's share in this amounted to $1500 and the state leader, Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte, has already placed this amount with the local Liberty loan committee, where it will go to swell Oakland's quota. This association has also founded a patriotic fund, now amounting to over $33,000, to aid its members who will be affected by the war, and over $12,000 of this amount has already been spent for yarn with which the thousands of loyal members have knit sweaters and socks for our boys.

HOLT VISITS OAKLAND.

Benjamin Holt, president of the Holt Tractor Company of Stockton, is registered at the Hotel Oakland.

LOAN SENDS POLITICS TO RETIREMENT

The Liberty Loan drive is playing havoc with State politics. Candidates complain that it is almost impossible to arouse interest among voters. The lull is being taken advantage of by the Republican and Democratic State Central Committees to plan active campaigns to be launched immediately following the close of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive.

On Monday, October 21, State candidates will start on a tour of the various counties of California, covering as much ground as possible before the day of election.

The fight for Governor Stephens will be largely along national lines. It is to be urged that a Republican victory in California at this time will have a most stimulating effect upon party leaders throughout the nation. National Republican Committeeman Will H. Hays is declared to be particularly anxious that California once again swing into the Republican fold, and has so informed the Republican State Central Committee. It is recognized that local issues are not sufficiently appealing. The war record of Governor William D. Stephens will be advanced as a strong argument for re-election.

Theodore A. Bell is planning an atcive speaking campaign. It is recognized that Bell is effective on the stump and his friends are anxious that he begin his tour at the earliest possible moment. Bell, although endorsed by the Democratic State Central Committee, has to date received no endorsement from the National Administration. Efforts are being put forth to secure such endorsement.

The statement of Frank C. Jordan, Republican Secretary of State, in which he declares himself in favor of Bell for governor, has been the chief development of the past week. Bell adherents regard the action of Jordan as worth many votes. Those close to Governor Stephens, on the other hand, declare that Jordan's action is causing them but little worry, hinting that the Secretary of State is a better vote getter for himself than for others.

San Diego has organized a Stephens club of more than 100 prominent men and women, including a number of well-known Democrats. One of these is Charles F. O'Neall, who has announced himself for Stephens in a published statement, in which he say he cannot support the sort of Democracy represented by the Governor's opponent.

We Must Do All We Can to Help Win the War

Important Notice

A year ago, at the instigation of the National Council of Defense, the retail stores were obliged to change their methods with reference to deliveries, return of merchandise and in other ways.

Realizing the necessity that forced the change, customers co-operated cheerfully in carrying out the government's policies.

As the war makes further demands on the resources of the country in order to make ultimate victory certain, it is confidently expected that a continuation of this co-operation will be granted.

The State Council of Defense has adopted the following resolution:

> "Resolved, that we discourage the giving of useless or extravagant Christmas presents, and urge early Christmas shopping; and that all gifts by mail or express be started to destination not later than November 30th."

The above resolution was made necessary owing to the increased requirements of material and labor for war purposes which make it essential that Christmas gifts (except for children) be confined to useful articles.

Under the operation of the extended draft for the army, it will be impossible for the stores to give their customary service during the month of December. You are therefore urged to commence your holiday shopping at once, aiming to finish in November.

Shop in the mornings, when possible, and distribute the drain on service resources.

Carry small packages—return as little merchandise as possible—and remember the FOUR-DAY LIMIT for its return.

Avoid C. O. D. purchases if possible.

Bring all returnable goods with you and in good condition.

All of the above things are essential items—just as the saving of a slice of bread, or a cube of sugar—for the successful conduct of the war.

All transportation facilities being largely used for the movement of war materials, it may be necessary for the government to curtail or stop the mailing and expressing of private packages at an early date.

THIS IS AN ADDED REASON FOR THE EARLY PURCHASING AND FORWARDING OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS

MOORES WIN WHILE HANLONS LOSE

Artie Benham Pitches Four-Hit Game For Alameda, But Breaks Are Against Him

Clyde Wares Works the Hidden Ball Trick; Baumgarten Lands Left

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The last chance which the Alameda Bethlehem ball team had left to finish on top in the Shipbuilders' league race, went to the winds yesterday afternoon, when "Wiz" Kremer, pitching for the Moore Shipyards, was the winner in a tight pitching duel with Artie Benham, the little southpaw of the Alameda club. But the interest in the Shipbuilders' League race will not die down as long as the Alameda team can offer the same opposition to the rest of the clubs in the league as they did yesterday to Moores. And also there is more reason than ever for the fans to have their interest in the race, as the victory which the Moores put over on Alameda placed them just one game closer to the Hanlon league leaders who lost to the San Francisco Bethlehems. The Moores have a grand chance to finish on top, with only two games separating them from the leaders, and seven more yet to be played. Several little features were added to the game, which was witnessed by a good crowd. Artie Benham and "Wiz" hooked in a classy nine-inning mound duel, the breaks being against the Alameda hurler. Then there was a small-sized riot, in which Umpire Jake Baumgarten had the satisfaction of landing his left hand in Clyde Wares' face, and also having Wares come up to him afterward and apologize. And there is still a couple of more features, another of them has Wares as the factor. Clyde pulled the hidden ball trick on "Swede" Risberg just at a time when it was needed to pull "Wiz" Kremer out of a tight hole. The remaining feature was a great shoe-string catch by Joe Gedeon in the ninth inning that robbed Cutshaw of a hit, and his team of another run. The catch did not save the game from being lost, but just the same it was too good to be overlooked.

CUTSHAW AND BIGBEE HELP MOORES WIN.

George Cutshaw of the Brooklyn Nationals and Carson Bigbee of the Pittsburg Club, made their first appearance in the Shipbuilders' league as members of the Moore team, and they played their part in helping the two Moore runs over the plate in the fourth inning. Also Cutshaw and Clyde Wares showed the fans some classy fielding work in practice, as well as they did in the game itself. It was really a tough game for Artie Benham to lose, and it was a close decision at second base that went in favor of Moores that left the gate open to permit the two runs to score. But still no credit can be taken away from "Wiz" Kremer for he pitched a winning brand of ball, allowing only five hits and looking at his best in the pinches. And also the entire team must be given credit for the sort of support that was accorded Kremer, not an error being registered against the Moores, while one error by Elliott in the fatal fourth also helped the Moores to their win.

A WALK TO WARES STARTS ALL THE TROUBLE.

An infield hit for Kremer put the only Moore men on first base in the first three innings, while hits by Miller and Gedeon with one out in the second inning made things look bright for Alameda, but Christen soon fanned and Ritchie was out on a rap to Kremer.

In the fourth inning for Moores, Clyde Wares was the first to face Artie Benham, and he waited until four wide ones went by and then took a free trip to first, and lost little time in making a steal of second base. Carson Bigbee hit to Elliott at short, and the latter, in an effort, forced Wares at third, hit the runner in the back, he being safe, and Bigbee showing some speed to reach second. Howard was next to hit to Elliott, and the latter passed up a chance to get Bigbee flat-footed off second by tossing Howard out at first. Risberg made a return throw to second, and it is still a question of doubt if Umpire Baumgarten was right in calling Bigbee safe. However, it was a close play and which many will argue was decided wrong. Oscar Vitt flied to Gedeon in left field, and Joe made a powerful throw, but it was wide of the plate and got by Ritchie to allow Wares to score. Then came George Cutshaw with a rap down the third baseline that was good for two bases and Bigbee scored the last run of the game, for Helling ended the inning by hitting to Elliott.

BROOKS ON LINES TO SEE WARES PULL TRICK.

Clarence Brooks, manager of the Alameda Bethlehem team, was himself on the first base coaching line, while Bobby Jones was keeping lookout at third base when Clyde Wares got by with the hidden ball trick on such a brainy ball player as Swede Risberg, and spoiled Alameda's best chance for a score. It all happened in the seventh inning. Risberg walked, and went to second when Miller laid down a bunt, and was safe when Kremer mussed it up. Gedeon was out on a fly to Maggart, and it was that fly that tempted Wares into his trick, which was the second one he performed this season, Bill Kenworthy being a victim about a month ago. Maggart returned the ball to second base and Wares managed to hold on to it without anyone taking notice, and as soon as Risberg stepped from the bag he was tagged out, Wares holding "Swede" and at the same time shouting for Umpire Baumgarten to look.

Wares walked in the sixth inning, and when Baumgarten called him out in an attempt to steal second, Clyde got sore and chased Jake to the pitchers' box, and there the small battle took place and was ended by the interference of other players. Next Sunday the feature game of the day will be played on the Oakland lot with the Moore team being scheduled to meet Hanlons, their bitter rivals.

San Jose Bowlers to Be Here for Match at Maryland Tonight

Illness of employees will prevent Frank N. Arnerich, captain of the San Jose team, champions of Northern California, from bowling against the Oaks at the Maryland alleys in Oakland tonight, but Qualey, Walgren and Siettedahl of the champions will be on hand with a couple of substitutes to do battle with the Oakland bowling club's best bets.

San Jose is preparing to enter three bowling teams in the Maryland alleys' tournament the first week in November.

The San Jose No. 1 team has issued a challenge to the San Francisco Crabs and to the Del Monte team of Los Angeles, twice champions of the P. C. B. A., for home and home matches.

Fremont High Football Team Looks Strong

Chances to Again Win A. C. A. L. Honors Grows Brighter.

Although handicaped at the beginning of the season by the lack of a professional coach, the Fremont High School rugby football team is taking great strides toward another A. C. A. L. championship under the direction of Clarence Street, former Berkeley "Y" physical director, and Captain "Ike" Anderson, a veteran of many seasons.

With the completion of preliminary practice, Manager R. E. Meadows arranged the first game of the season with Hayward High school, at the Farm City gridiron Saturday morning at 10 a. m., resulting in a decisive Fremont victory.

Great enthusiasm is being shown at the boulevard school for football this season, over sixty boys turning out each night for practice.

Among the veterans of past seasons who are represented on the 1918 team are: Harold "Ike" Anderson, captain; John Tait and Francis "Fat" Wilson, all of whom held positions on the A. C. A. L. all-star team of 1917.

As a stimulation to interest in the season's sport, inter-class games are being played off this week with the intense rivalry centering in the senior and junior classes.

Manager Meadows has scheduled a pre-league game with Lick-Wilmerding High school of San Francisco for Saturday, October 19, at the Stadium in Golden Gate Park. Chances are good for a Green and Gold victory.

Alameda Wins Game 5-1 in Soccer League

RESULTS YESTERDAY.

At Eighth and Market—Burns-Rangers 1, Barbarians 0.

At Ewing Field—Olympics 3, S. F. Union Iron Works 3.

At Oakland, Fortieth and San Pablo—Alameda Union I. W., 5; Celtics 1.

Moore Shipyards, no game as Thistles retired from league.

Standing of the clubs:

Club.	W.	L.	Dr.	Goals For	Goals Agst	Pts
Union I. W.	1	0	1	8	3	3
Moore Shipyds	1	0	0	6	1	2
Burns-Rang'rs	1	1	0	1	5	2
Olympics	0	0	1	5	5	2
Alamedas	1	0	1	7	3	3
Barbarians	0	2	0	1	7	0
Celtics	0	0	0	1	5	0

The Alameda Bethlehem soccer team showed at its best to beat the Celtics in one of the league games played yesterday afternoon at the Fortieth and San Pablo grounds in Oakland. The Celtics were unable to get off to a proper start and the Alamedans led, 3 to 1, at the end of the first half. The final result was 5 to 1.

The Burns-Rangers sprang a surprise by defeating the Barbarians in their game at the Eighth and Market street grounds in San Francisco, for the Rangers were figured to be too weak a combination for the Barbs. Only one score was made in the game, it being kicked by Melbourne, the Rangers' center-half-back.

The game at Ewing Field between the Olympics and the Tankers of the San Francisco Bethlehem Shipbuilding plant resulted in a 3 to 3 tie. At the end of the first half, Edgar Pomeroy's Olympic team was leading 2 to 0, and the Tankers came to life in the second half to grab the lead, and have it tied by the Olympics in the last few minutes of play.

Black and Turnbull Win in Red Cross Match at San Jose

At the links of the San Jose Golf and Country club yesterday, George Turnbull and Jack Black defeated Abe Espinosa and Mike Brady in a brilliant foursome, proceeds from the gallery going to the Red Cross. The match was staged under the auspices of the Vendome Hotel, Chester Kelly, manager. Black and Turnbull won two up at the end of a 36-hole match.

Dundee and Denny Will Be On Hand to Fight Wednesday

Jimmy Dundee will meet Battling Vierra in the main event of the Shipbuilders' Athletic Carnival to be staged at the Oakland auditorium next Wednesday night. There was talk that Dundee would refuse to box at the show because of the trouble that the directors of the Shipbuilders' Athletic Association are having over the matchmaker, but yesterday saw James Kiernan of the Alameda Bethlehem plant, advise Dundee to go on with the bout, and he also advised Frankie Denny in a like way. Both boys work at the Alameda plant, and someone started the story that they would be held off the card Wednesday night. Dundee will meet Vierra and Denny will meet Frank Barrieau in a return match. Both Dundee and Denny did some hard training yesterday afternoon, and later visited the ball game in which the Alameda Bethlehems were conquered by the Moores. A strong list of special and preliminary bouts back up the double main event which will take place Wednesday night.

Cammozi Allows One Hit to U.S.S.B. Win

The United States Merchant Marines (U. S. Shipping Board) baseball team yesterday traveled to Fort Miley and handed the soldier team at that place a 4 to 2 trimming. "Lefty" Cammozi was in the box for the shipping board club and held the soldiers to but one hit, while Hanley, one of his teammates, did the rest of the work by hitting a homer, double and single. Larson was in the box for the losers. The score:

Prough Fans 22 Batters To Beat Grays

Johnny Gillespie Pitches a Great Game Against Steel Boys.

Johnny Gillespie was sent into the box at Pittsburg yesterday afternoon to try his hand against Bill Steen's Pittsburg (Columbia Steel Co. players, and Johnny sure looked sweet pitching against the big boys, although he did not win his game. He opposed Clinton Prough in the box, and that is just the reason he did not win, as Prough proved too much for the Gray batters, allowing them only two hits, they being split up by Viveiros and Clark. Five hits is all that the Steel boys got off Gillespie, and three of them were made in the fourth inning when the steel boys made all the runs for a 4 to 0 win. Prough fanned 22 of the Grays' batters and only three balls batted to the outfield. Three assists were credited to the Pittsburg infield, one going to Prough himself, and the remainder to Rod Murphy. Bill Steen hit a homer in the fourth inning with two men on. A good crowd witnessed the game, and the Grays were given a fine compliment by Bill Steen for the class of ball that they played and for their conduct. The score:

Oakland Elks Claim Northern Baseball Title by Close Win

The Oakland lodge of Elks earned the right to claim the baseball championship of their order for Northern California by defeating the San Francisco lodge at the Oakland Coast league park, Saturday, by a score of 7 to 6. The locals spurred on by Frank Woodward, showed good fighting spirit by coming to life in the seventh inning to score four runs and add three more to them in the eighth inning to overcome the six run lead which the rival club had piled up.

With runners on first and second, in the seventh, Speed Gasden laid a bunt down the third base line and John McKee scored from second while the San Francisco infield was praying for the ball to roll foul, but there was nothing doing. The San Francisco Bills want revenge and have challenged the locals to a series, which will probably open next Saturday at the local park. The score:

Pitching by Krause Beats Hanlons 3-1

Pfyle Misses Play and Tom Laird's Double Does the Rest.

By MAURY PESSANO.

Harry Krause, the big southpaw of the San Francisco Bethlehems, had one of his good days yesterday afternoon at Recreation park, against the Hanlon shipyard team, when he allowed Bill Kenworthy's boys but three scattered hits—one in the first and two in the seventh, and after the first inning, which saw the Hanlons score their only run of the game, Krause's shoots were hard to solve, but two men getting on the bases and one as far as second. His team-mates found "Gene" Caldera, the crack southpaw of the Hanlons, who made his appearance on the mound after a two months' lay off, for nine hits, and gave the San Francisco Bethlehems a 3-to-1 win over the Hanlons.

It was in the second inning that San Francisco cinched the game. They found Caldera for two hits that helped them in the scoring of two runs, and it was a long double to deep left by Tom Laird with a man on third and second. The San Francisco Bethlehems found Caldera for one or more hits in every inning but the third, and it can be said that the breaks were against the young pitcher. In the third inning when San Francisco scored two runs, Umpire Monte Pfyl was not on a play quick enough, at third base, for a force out, and to complete a double play to retire the side, as Laird, the next batter, came to the plate and doubled to score both runners.

HANLONS FIRST TO SCORE.

After Hollander and Manda were easy outs in the first, Krause lost control and hit Jack Smith in the ribs to put him on first. A moment later saw the big leaguer steel second. Bill Kenworthy beat out a hit to deep short, and when Laird threw bad to Lewellyn at home, Smith easily scored. Schick was an easy out to close the inning, and it was after this inning that Harry Krause was the master of the situation by his wonderful pitching. He never was in hot water. Billy Kamm, former player of the Maxwell Hardware team in last year's winter league, was the first batter to face Caldera and hit to deep short for a hit, but "Gene" showed some good pitching against the next three batters.

BAUM'S BOYS TAKE LEAD.

Harry Krause was showing the Hanlon boys a great assortment of curves, for the next five innings saw him pitch shutout ball and not one batter reached first base off him, some classy fielding by Cavaneny at short being a help to his win. It was in the fourth inning that "Spider" Baum's San Francisco Bethlehems overcame the lead that Hanlons held over them and also clinched the game. Charley Pick opened this inning with a hit to center, Fitzgerald bunted one in front of the plate and on the play at second for Pick both runners were safe. Caldera whiffed Krause for the first out, but it was next that Umpire Pfyle pulled his bloomer. Cavaneny hit a hot one to Manda, who tagged Pick for the second out and threw to Kenworthy, forcing Fitzgerald for the last out, but Umpire Pfyl claimed that Manda did not touch Pick. Cavaneny stole second, and then all arguments were settled when Laird busted one to left for two bags, and sent in Pick and Cavaneny with the winning runs of the game. McKnew made the last out with a fly to Schick.

San Francisco found Caldera for hits in the next three innings, but could not make any of them count, fast double plays by Hanlons pulling Caldera out of holes. It looked like Baum's boys were out to score more in the seventh, but a fast throw by Smith after Kamm had flew out to him killed their chances, for Laird, who was on second at the time was doubled for the last out. Krause retired the side on strikes in the eighth, while in the same inning his teammates made another run, their last of the game. With Siglin out of the way, Pick hit one for a double to center. Fitzgerald was out, Kenworthy to Merani, moving Pick up to third, and then Harry Krause hit one to Hollander that looked like a bad hop, for a hit to score Pick.

Tie for Second Place in Mt. Diablo Golf Tourney

Second place in the tombstone golf tournament of the Mount Diablo Park club, held yesterday, remains to be played off, Martin Turner, Abe P. Leach Jr. and W. J. Scott having tied for it at the nineteenth hole. M. J. Laymance was the first place winner, finishing in 20 holes, while Arthur Meyer took third, getting into the nineteenth green.

The course was in wonderful shape and the weather was admirable. There was a good gallery, and besides the tourney many individual matches were played during the day, a big week-end delegation of members having come out Saturday evening, when the club held its annual Southern dinner.

There was a tourney for women members also, the first three places going to Mrs. C. H. Terry, Mrs. A. S. Wickersham and Mrs. C. A. Stacy, with Mrs. D. H. Foots, Mrs McGauley, Mrs. J. W. Morton, Mrs. E. C. Hutchinson and Mrs. H. M. Lee trailing them among the eighteen women entrants.

In the men's tournament, the folloingw, aside from the winners and contestants for second place, all finished between the sixteenth and eighteenth holes, there being 38 entries:

R. M. Sims, C. A. Stacy, A. S. Wickersham, Dr. C. H. Terry, J. B. McCargar, Robert Yates, B. J. Smith, Frank Leach Sr., Abe Leach Sr., M. W. Bidwell, H. M. Lee, R. N. Burgess, F. L. Wolfe, J. B. John, C. T. Hutchinson, E. C. Hutchinson, J. W. Morton, W. H. Berg, Joseph Ghiradelli, Dr. E. C. Love, C. S. Woody, A. J. Coogan, D. H. Foote, George B. Dinsmore, H. Ross, Dr. F. W. Shores, J. B. Havre and Walter Johnson.

Itching, Scratching, Skin Diseases That Burn Like Flames of Fire

Here Is a Sensible Treatment That Gets Prompt Results.

For real, downright, harassing discomfort very few disorders can approach so-called skin diseases, such as Eczema, Tetter, Boils, eruptions, scaly irritations and similar skin troubles, notwithstanding the lavish use of salves, lotions, washes and other treatment applied externally to the irritated parts.

No one ever heard of a person being afflicted with any form of skin diseases whose blood was in good condition. Therefore, it is but logical to conclude that the proper method of treatment for pimples, blotches, sores, boils, rough, red and scaly skin is to purify the blood and remove the tiny germs of pollution that break through and manifest their presence on the surface of the skin.

People in all parts of the country have written us how they were completely rid of every trace of these disorders by the use of S. S. S., the matchless, purely vegetable, blood purifier. S. S. S. goes direct to the center of the blood supply, and purifies and cleanses it of every vestige of foreign matter, giving a clear and ruddy complexion that indicates perfect health. ELECTION PROCLAMATION

Executive Department, State of California.

I, WILLIAM D. STEPHENS, Governor of the State of California, do hereby proclaim that a general election will be held throughout said State on TUESDAY, THE FIFTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1918, at which the following offices are to be filled:

Member of the House of Representatives, from each of the eleven Congressional Districts of the State;
Governor;
Lieutenant Governor;
Secretary of State;
Controller;
Treasurer;
Attorney General;
Surveyor General;
Superintendent of Public Instruction;
Member of the State Board of Equalization, from each of the four Equalization Districts in the State;
State Senator from each of the following twenty Senatorial Districts in the State, to-wit: Second, Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth, Thirty-second, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-eighth and Fortieth; also State Senator from the Twenty-ninth Senatorial District for the unexpired term of Henry H. Lyon, deceased;
Member of the Assembly from each of the Eighty Assembly Districts in the State;
Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, full term;
Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, unexpired term of F. W. Henshaw, resigned;
Justice of the District Court of Appeal, First Appellate District, Regular Term;
Justice of the District Court of Appeal, Second Appellate District, Regular Term;
Presiding Justice of the District Court of Appeal, Third Appellate District, Regular Term;
Judge of the Superior Court in each of the respective counties of Alameda, Calaveras, El Dorado, Fresno, Humboldt, Kern, Kings, Los Angeles, Madera, Marin, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Joaquin, Shasta and Tulare, the number to be elected in each of said counties in which such election is to be held, for both the regular term thereof and for the unexpired term thereof, and also to fill vacancies as the Constitution and law provide.
Justice of the Peace in each of the counties and townships in the State, the number to be elected in each office being as prescribed by the laws of the State;
Also such state, county, township, district and other offices as are provided by law to be elected.

I further proclaim that at said election there will be submitted to the vote of the electors such proposed amendments to the Constitution, propositions, initiative measures and acts submitted by referendum, as are required to be submitted by the Constitution and laws of the State.

And I do hereby offer a reward of One Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of any and every person violating any of the provisions of Title IV, Part I, of the Penal Code of the State of California, such reward to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended for the purpose reaches the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars.

In testimony whereof, I, William D. Stephens, Governor of the State of California, have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of said State to be affixed this 12th day of October, 1918, at the City of Sacramento, in the State of California.

(SEAL) WM. D. STEPHENS, Governor.
Attest: FRANK C. JORDAN, Secretary of State.

Dock and Deck

The fine weather of yesterday brought out many sightseers along the waterfront and the new dock at West Oakland had several fishing parties. Many fish were caught. The ferry steamers carried large crowds from the San Francisco side, who spent the day at Alameda county, among the parks and beaches. But today's rain stopped some of the work along the docks and shipyards.

It has been stated that the Stone shipyard at East Oakland has received the contract to build several wooden schooners of about 400 tons register. These craft, it is rumored, are for an outside company at an off-shore port. It has been many years since small wooden vessels have been constructed on the Pacific coast.

Another Oakland built steamship has been completed and yesterday left the Moore plant on her official trial trip, which proved satisfactory to all, and the new craft will be turned over to the shipping board this week, to load a cargo for an off-shore port.

FIREMAN ARRESTED AT LUMBER DOCK.

A. Christensen, a fireman on board of a steam schooner which just unloaded a cargo at the Sunset lumber dock, was arrested before the vessel sailed for another cargo. He is a native of Denmark and 37 years of age, but did not register for the draft, although he was in port on that day.

The new 10,000 ton tanker L. D. Drake has been completed at a northern shipyard for the Standard Oil Co. and within a few days will be ready for service. She had her trial trip Saturday and everything proved successful. One of the skippers in the employ from this port will have command of the new craft.

Skippers have been appointed for the new craft just completed for the Shipping Board. They are: Captain J. W. Nicholson, steamer Broncho; Captain W. Renney, steamer Yakima; Captain C. M. Wilson, steamer Mattappan; Captain H. Hansen, steamer Donoke. E. R. Tindall was appointed chief engineer of the Broncho, and W. C. Stooks takes a similar position on the Yakima.

ALASKA SHIPS ARE TO LEAVE.

Several of the Alaska codfishermen which lately returned from Bering sea, have again shipped and are on their way to the stations near Unga, where they will remain until next spring. They fish from the stations and the fish are shipped here. Next spring a vessel will call for them and take them to Bering sea again.

Great improvements are being made along the West Oakland water front. Many new buildings and warehouses are under way. A new building is completed, which is to be used as the office of the Parr Dock & Warehouse Co., and before the year closes much cargo will be handled at this pier from steamers.

Sun, Moon, Tide

CHANGE OF TIME.

Commencing Sunday, March 31, 1918, one hour must be added to the various times each day on tides, sunrise to sunset, moonrise to moonset, until the last Sunday in October, 1918. This is to conform with the new daylight law.

United States Coast and Geodetic Survey—Table shows times and heights of high and low water at Fort Point, entrance to San Francisco bay. For city front (Mission-street pier) add 25 minutes. For Oakland add 20 minutes. Standard time.

SENSITIVE COP BALKS AT COW-BELL IN PARADE

There are bells and bells, according to the police; and a failure to discriminate as to the appropriate times and usages connected with various kinds of chimes led to the arrest of Manual J. Silva. Fire bells might clang, wedding bells might tinkle, and a cowbell might appropriately be tied to the coach which carried the bride and groom on the first stage of their honeymoon. But according to Corporal C. A. Hunt there is no affinity between cow bells and Liberty bells.

Hunt saw Silva in the Liberty bond parade with a big cow bell tied to the rear axle of his automobile. The machine was filled with friends of Silva, who accompanied the bell with sounds which were as musical as that of the clanking of metal upon the pavement. Hunt placed Silva under arrest and charged him with being a nuisance.

Charge Will Be Changed in Case

Frank Lewis, Frank Alderson, arrested as accomplices of C. N. (Mickey) Brown, who died as the result of gunshot wounds received when attempting to rob the Market Street restaurant at 704 Market street, last Monday morning, will be arraigned before Judge Mortimer Smith tomorrow morning, charged with highway robbery, and Charles Baender, third of the men, is being held as a witness.

The complaint was sworn to today by A. T. Lemieux, proprietor of a saloon at 5806 East Fourteenth street, which was robbed by Lewis, Alderson, Baender and Brown on the night of Friday, October 4.

Inspectors W. F. Kyle and Richard McSorley this morning said that owing to Brown's death, it would be impossible to secure conviction on a charge of accessory before and after the fact on the men as the chain of evidence, due to Brown's death is incomplete.

Anti-Sedition Law Will Be Invoked

George E. Metz and Vincent Matice, appeared in Judge Mortimer Smith's court this morning charged with uttering seditious remarks in violation of the Jackson anti-sedition ordinance.

Their cases were set for October 17 to give the Federal authorities and the neutrality squad time to thoroughly investigate their records.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Oakland, California, October 8, 1918.
A meeting of stockholders of the Sibbett Manufacturing Company will be held at 1301 Seventh street, Oakland, California, October 19th, 1:30 p. m.
M. C. THRELKELD,
President.

My wife, Rena Manrow Bidwell Schroeder, having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any bills contracted by her on and after this 10th day of October, 1918.

Mexican Petroleum Rises 5 Points

Peace Stocks Strong at Opening

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Peace stocks were again decidedly strong at the opening of today's market, rails, shippings and oils scoring the greatest gains. Mexican Petroleum rose five points in the first half hour, jumping almost two points between sales. Marin common and preferred improved substantially with United Fruit, the latter advancing three points.

Pacifics, Reading, Atchison and Southern Railway featured the transportations at gains of 1 to 2 points. Irregular heaviness was shown by United States Steel and independent steels, also Baldwin Locomotive and Industrial Alcohol, in which recessions of one to two points prevailed. The trend of the day's trading follows:

FORENOON—Tobacco and Motors and low priced rails supplemented early strong features. Oils continued to lead at extreme advances of seven points each for Texas Company and Mexican Petroleum and 3¼ points for Royal Dutch. Inquiries for metals embraced American Smelting and Utah, Anaconda and Chile Coppers at gains of 1 to 2½ points. Sumatra Tobacco rose 2 points and Sears-Roebuck extended last week's advance by 6 points. Equipments stiffened on U. S. Steel's rebound of 1½ points, and investment rails developed further strength under lead of Union Pacific. Liberty bonds were strong.

AFTERNOON—United States Steel's further rally to 108⅛, an extreme advance of almost three points, was of distinct benefit to kindred industrial oils, recorded further gains, also rails and shippings, Marine preferred advancing four points to its highest level of the year.

CLOSING—Profit taking in rails and oils and further gains in steels, equipments and specialties marked the active final hour. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

LIBERTY BOND PRICES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Liberty bond closing prices: 3½s, 99.98. First convertible 4s, 98.40; second 4s, 97.38. First convertible 4¼s, 98.48; second convertible 4¼s, 97.84; third 4¼s, 97.40.

Money Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Mercantile paper, 6 per cent; sterling, 60-day bills, $4.73; commercial 60-day bills on banks, $4.72½; commercial 60-day bills, $4.72¼; demand, $4.75½; cables, $4.76⅝.

Mexican dollars, 78c.

Time loans, strong; 6 per cent bid.

Call money, strong; high 6, low 6, ruling rate 6, closing bid 5¾, offered at 6, last loan 6.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Money, 3 percent.

Bank Clearings

Oakland's bank clearings for today are $1,450,470.53.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The bank clearings for today are $23,754,906.49.

Metal Exchange

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Metal Exchange quoted lead unchanged; spot, 8.05c. Spelter, unchanged. East St. Louis delivery, spot, offered at 8.65c.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Sensational advances in corn today made dealers forget transient sharp declines at the opening. Trading on the initial break was lively and the market was rallying when announcement that the United States government was to purchase large quantities of corn, November and December delivery, led to a rush to the bull side. Values quickly reached 9½c a bushel, the early low point.

OPENING.

Opening prices, which ranged from 1⅝c to 4c lower, with November $1.11@1.12, and December $1.08@1.11, were the minimum.

After opening unchanged to 2⅜c lower, oats rallied to well above Saturday's finish.

Provisions displayed an upward bent. Pork rose the maximum allowed for a single day.

Rapid fluctuations and active dealings ensued. Nevertheless, the announcement that the government was in the market as a liberal buyer continued to be the dominating factor. The close was strong, 5¼@7⅝ net higher, with November $1.21@1.21½, and December $1.18¼@1.18¾.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, $1.47@1.48; No. 3 yellow, $1.30@1.35; No. 4 yellow, $1.20@1.27.

Rye—No. 2, $1.62@1.64½.

Barley, 85@98c.

Timothy, $7.50@10.00.

Clover, nominal.

THE CLOSE.

Corn—Nov., $1.21; Dec., $1.18¼.
Oats—Nov., 67⅜c; Dec., 67c.
Pork—Oct., $34.27; Nov., $34.27.
Lard—Oct., $26.50; Nov., $25.25.
Ribs—Oct., $21.95; Nov., $41.95.

Chicago Corn Prices Take Skyward Jump

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Announcement from the gallery of the Board of Trade today that the United States government would buy large amounts of corn for November and December delivery made corn prices jump skyward. The November option touched $1.20⅛, a rise of six cents above Friday's close, and a far greater advance from a sharp initial setback today due to the German reply to President Wilson's inquiries.

Physicians Asked to Rally to Service

Dr. Kirby Smith, health officer of the city of Oakland this morning issued a call to the physicians of the city on behalf of the United States Public Health Service asking all physicians to hold themselves in readiness to serve anywhere within the States of California, Nevada or Arizona to handle the present emergency brought about by the prevalence of Spanish influenza.

Physicians will be compensated at the rate of $200 per month and traveling expenses, subsistence up to $4 per day.

Woman Is Hurt in Car Mishap

Mrs. M. Bohan, 4390 Telegraph avenue, suffered a broken rib and other bruises when she was thrown violently to the floor of a southbound Telegraph avenue car last night. The car stopped suddenly and was crashed into a Shattuck avenue car. Henry Losen, 641 Sixtieth street, also a passenger on the Telegraph car, was badly bruised as a result of the collision.

TO TELL OF FRANCE.

William Lawrence, a marine, who recently returned from France and who took part in the battle of Chateau-Thierry, will tell of his experience at the war front in a talk at a meeting of the West Piedmont Improvement Club in the Egbert W. Beach school tonight. Lawrence is working in the interest of the fourth Liberty loan.

Building Inspector Arrests Drivers

Robert Moulds comes from the same town as former President William Howard Taft and is possessed of the same genial disposition. His vocation is that of inspecting public buildings, and seeing that the city hall and other structures are kept in apple pie order. His avocation is that of deputy sheriff, and he apparently indulges this only on Sundays.

Moulds has two arrests to his credit on the police blotter this morning. He was walking along Grove street near Sixteenth when he observed an automobile back into a horse and buggy. The driver, without waiting to see what damage was done, is alleged by Moulds to have started forward again, carrying the buggy down the street, but leaving the horse hitched to a post.

Moulds placed Raymond Dracke, the driver, under arrest for reckless driving, and while he was doing so, Joe Dracke, a brother, attempted to remonstrate, and prevent the arrest. Moulds placed Joe Dracke under arrest for interfering with an officer, and after turning his two prisoners over to the desk sergeant, declared himself thoroughly satisfied with the day's work.

PLAN CONSTRUCTION WORK.

RICHMOND, Oct. 14.—Captain Ashley, U. S. A., officer in charge of the construction work on the new extensions of the Giant powder plant, has established headquarters in Richmond. The offices are located in the Cunningham building, where Captain Ashley and a corps of assistants are busy on preliminary work.

BIRTHS

BURNS—October 10, to the wife of George Burns, a daughter.

EHRHART—October 7, to the wife of Joseph Francis Ehrhart, a daughter.

ZUGG—October 8, to the wife of Otho Zugg, a daughter.

RADELJEVICK—October 2, to the wife of Paul Radeljevick, a son.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

STOLL-LA FURGLEY—Lawrence D. Stoll, 28, and Lillian La Furgley, 23, both of Los Angeles.

MULDOWNEY-DE COSTE—Barney Muldowney, 32, and Margaret DeCoste, 23, both of Oakland.

POLK-TREVETHICKE—Frank E. Polk, 47, and Sarah G. Trevethicke, 40, both of Oakland.

BRIDGE HALTED BY WAR DEMAND

War necessity, especially the manufacture of aeroplanes, has made such a call upon the supply of cedar that the repairs of the Webster street bridge, recently authorized by the Board of Supervisors, is seriously interferred with. The situation developed today when Supervisor W. J. Hamilton inquired as to the progress of the repairs. County Surveyor Perry A. Haviland replied that pending the arrival of the cedar for the stringers and the flooring the piling is being driven in preparation for the reconstruction of the superstructure.

The contract calls for the completion of the work in ninety days, and the repairs have been under way for about two weeks.

Two wards at the County Hospital have been prepared to take care of cases of Spanish influenza, Superintendent W. H. Stewart announced. There are now twelve cases at the hospital, mostly not serious. Great difficulty has been experienced by the superintendent in securing nurses. He announced that the hospital is anxious to secure a number of student nurses. Compensation will be paid at the rate of $10 a month the first year, $12 a month the second year, and the best accommodations provided.

The announcement of the resignation of Dr. Lee E. Smith, resident physician at the Receiving Hospital, was announced. No physician has been secured to take his place. Harold Richard was appointed assistant steward in the meantime.

At the request of Judge T. W. Harris, the board has provided two rooms at 512 Broadway for the accommodation of the County Council of Defense. Annette W. Walsh was apponted stenographer at a salary of $100 a month. The arrangements were made because of the increasing amount of work the council has been called upon to do. Heretofore it has been done principally in the judge's chambers at the court house.

THOUSANDS POSE FOR TRIBUNE "SMILES" PICTURE

The TRIBUNE sends Oakland's official smile to the boys over there. Here are pictures of the great crowd that thronged Lakeside Park when The TRIBUNE "smile film" was taken yesterday. An ocean of love, a sea of smiles and a tidal wave of printed greetings will tell Alameda county's warriors that the folks at home are with them. There were 20,000 men, women and children representing private homes, organizations, society and officialdom. In the lower picture are the women of the Defenders' Club. In front of them are (left to right), MRS. OSCAR FITZALAN LONG, MRS. ROBERT WAYBUR, MRS. GEORGE W. BAKER JR. and MISS MARJORIE HENDERSON.

HOME FOLK SEND LOVE TO 'OUR BOYS'

From C. S. Hart, director of the United States Division of Films, came word today that his department will send The TRIBUNE smile film to the boys "over there" as soon as copies are received in Washington. This means that "Our boys" will have the Eastbay greetings within the next three or four weeks, with Uncle Sam himself attending to the distribution of the picture.

Thousands of people, marching in a solid phalanx across Lakeside Park, service flags and banners flying—thousands of happy faces, smiling cheer to loved ones across the sea in the trenches—this was the Christmas gift of Oakland and The TRIBUNE to the boys "over there." It was a wonderful day; a day that typified the democracy of America, for which those boys are fighting, than perhaps any event that has occurred since the war started. For society leaders from Piedmont and mothers of boys from the factories walked shoulder to shoulder, just as their sons are marching shoulder to shoulder in war-torn France. All met on a common ground—love of some soldier in the trenches—all were animated by one idea—service.

Social distinctions were too small to even be dreamed of—nothing counted but that film for the boys.

And that's why it will be a wonderful film.

A procession of wives, mothers, sweethearts and children, with brothers, fathers and friends, that would have stretched across Lakeside Park for almost a mile, was marched under a bridge from which a battery of cameras caught a "close up" of every smiling face. Banners galore called the attention of Tom or Bill or Jack to the person holding it. Service flags, the Stars and Stripes, and lodge banners were many. Police, firemen, high school cadets, Defenders' Club, Red Cross, all were in the picture.

OAKLAND SPIRIT FILMED.

But, above all—the spirit of loyal Oakland is in that picture—the spirit that will put new heart into the soldiers of freedom.

The TRIBUNE "smiles" picture was taken under the most ideal conditions possible. The crowd was perfect, the direction of George Middleton, the famous producer, and Harry G. Williams, grand marshal, was perfect, Steindorff's band was perfect, and the crowd was perfect. Every one was happy. The camera men on the bridge enjoyed it just as much as the people did; Grand Marshal Harry Williams and Director Middleton, Miss Beatriz Michelena, the famous film star, all made friends with the crowd at once and the affair developed into a near-picnic in the park with the pictures as a feature.

It was shortly after 1 o'clock that the camera men began setting their instruments on the improvised bridge by the band stand. Already the space before the band stand was a teeming mass of humanity, with a steady stream from the outside swelling it. They crowded around the band stand. They crowded under the trees.

CADETS IN MARCH.

The Fremont High School Cadets, in the meantime, assembled by the boat landing and on the upper hillocks the police and fire platoons drew into line. Captain Joseph E. Caine and his Chamber of Commerce delegation with their monster banner and service flag, also formed for the parade with the uniformed contingent, and the Red Cross truck was backed in across the lawn, loaded with soldiers and sailors and held in readiness.

Marshal Harry Williams and Director Middleton, with Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman and Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead, held a short consultation. The line of march was quickly lined up. The police and firemen were brought into the foreground, leading the procession, and behind them marched the Chamber of Commerce delegation, headed by Captain Caine and President H. C. Capwell, bearing the chamber's greeting and the service flag of the organization.

Marching with precise military tread, the High School Cadets, a crack company from the Technical high school, then led the crowd under the camera arch.

From then on one solid river of humanity flowed under the bridge for an hour. The long line, stretching from the band stand far north toward Grand avenue, seemed to grow even as it marched through. Director Middleton at first tried to keep count of the numbers, but finally gave it up.

"I got as far as ten thousand," he said, "and they seemed coming as heavy as ever. I gave up the count."

Cameraman George Pounder and Director Earle Emlay of the California Packers' Film Department, who handled the machines for Middleton, say that the number passing under the bridge was at least 19,000 people.

After the taking of the bridge picture the crowds filed to the front of the band stand. Every seat was filled at once. There were crowds as far back as the lake itself and far up into the hillocks on every side. Never had such a crowd been assembled in the park, not excepting even the time that Ambassador Gerard spoke here.

MISS MICHELENA SINGS.

Beatriz Michelena, the film star, was greeted with enthusiastic applause when she stepped to the band stand, escorted by Secretary Henry Vogt of the park commission. She shook hands with Director Steindorff and chatted a few moments before rendering the "Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Marseillaise."

"Now," she requested of the band director, "I wish you could play 'Smiles' for me."

An order from Steindorff and the band played the tune. In the meantime the cameras were still clicking busily at the two ends of the crowd.

That's how the picture was taken.

It will be shown at the Oakland T. & D., beginning next Sunday, for a few days before being shipped to France, that those who appeared in it may see themselves and know that the picture taken for their boys was good.

The details of handling the crowds and of taking the picture were in the hands of experts in every part. Director Steindorff and Secretary Vogt handled the music that inspired the marching crowds. Harry G. Williams, as marshal of the day, applied his parade experience so practically that not an instant was lost in forming the line and keeping the crowds before the camera bridge in just the right formation.

BOND PLEA HEARD.

Judge Jesse J. Dunn, four-minute man, made a spirted plea to the crowd to buy bonds to back up the boys, urging that the Liberty loan be supported just as the boys are fighting, regardless of peace rumors. Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of The TRIBUNE, in a brief address, also carried out the bond idea, impressing on the people the necessity of backing up Uncle Sam with dollars, now more than ever before.

The police and firemen worked wonders in keeping order during the filming of the picture. Director Middleton mapped out the general march into almost a story, winding up with a mass picture of the crowds shaking their fists, as at the kaiser.

Twenty thousand local boys, in the trenches, before Christmas, will be very, very happy when they see their own people, looking at them from a screen in France—and smiling.

And—that alone made yesterday worth while.

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

A little zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

ChangesHis Mind About Going Away

"Five years ago doctors told me I would have to move my wife to another climate, as she suffered so with stomach and liver trouble and bloating. Also, that she would have to have an operation for gall stones. Our mail carrier told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and, on his advice, she has taken it and is now as well as ever in her life." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Osgood's Dept. Drug Stores and druggists everywhere.—Advertisement

ENGLISH SONGS CHARM AUDIENCE

By HARRY L. SULLY.

The beauty of English as tongue in which beautiful songs may be sung was exemplified by Anna Fitziu, the American soprano who has charmed audiences in Italy, Spain and America, at the concert yesterday afternoon marking the dedication of the Savoy theater in San Francisco for concert purposes. Miss Fitziu thrilled her audience with the brilliance of her singing of Italian aria. But no gift she could offer could be greater than the loveliness of her group of English songs.

Clear enunciation of English, permitting the words to fall musically upon their ear, carrying their poetic message, reinforced by the melody—this is an art that is rare because of the frequency of singing in foreign languages. Many singers offer groups of English songs, but few sing them in such a way that the listener does not have to strain his ears to know whether they are being given in English or some other tongue.

Miss Fitziu won her audience instantly by her beauty and graciousness when she came upon the stage. There was an electric quality about her singing of the "Aida" aria, "Ritorna Vincitor"; and her triumph was even greater after the delicate rendition of the ballatella from "Pagliacci," with its birdlike tones, and its effortless soaring into the higher register. But her art was appreciated almost as a distinct gift when she sang the lovely "The Bird of Wilderness" by Horsman, and followed it by MacFadyen's "Inter Nos" and "A Little Word."

Honors were shared by the singer with Andres de Segurola, bass-baritone of the Metropolitan for many years, a singer whose dramatic presentation of his message almost overtowers the music, which in itself was beautiful. Segulora and Miss Fitziu were heard together in two duets, and in the charming musical sketch, "Grandma was Right," presented in costume. They will be heard tomorrow night in Berkeley under the auspices of the Berkeley Musical Association.

TEN-YEAR-OLD TRAVELER IS IN CUSTODY

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Oliver Paulstine was tempted and did fall. But Oliver Paulstine, if he lives to be a hundred years old, will never forget that glorious, free, unrestrained, wild and merry "debauch" of yesterday. What if a hard-hearted guardian of law and order did check his headlong career early this morning when his feet stumbled into San Francisco, he was ready for breakfast and they serve a substantial one at the Juvenile Detention Home. It never troubled Oliver that he was booked as a runaway. He would have preferred to have been a burglar—but the bread and milk was just as good, even if insult was heaped upon his doughty deeds.

Oliver is 10. With the philosophy of childhood he is waiting stolidly to see what the grown-ups will do with him. Once in a while a heavenly grin spreads over his little face. He remembers the glory of yesterday. It stays his boy soul. In truth, his opinion of big folks is not altogether favorable to the aforesaid grown-ups. He does not understand them.

CALLED ON GIRL.

Oliver Paulstine embarked upon his career of crime by calling upon a little girl yesterday morning. He left his home at 2101 L street, Sacramento, as serene and normal a chap as ever started out on Sunday morning to pay respects to the lady of his heart. But the tiny maid's mother decided that Oliver and her daughter did not need a rigid chaperonage as they seemed engrossed with the simple pastime of teasing the cat. It may be church that summoned her—or a friendly chat. At any rate she departed. So Oliver and his chum went on a tour of investigation. They found a purse and a crisp $20 bill. Before the vision of the little lad stretched the road to romance. He did not mean to steal, but he did want to see the world. He did not mean to put the banknote in his pocket. But he did. His sturdy little legs did not mean to run to the station. They just went. When the train pulled out for Oakland there was Oliver. And no one suspected that here was desperate Ambrose going forth into the world to deeds of valor.

On the train Oliver began to buy ice cream. Remember that it was a hot day and that he was a little boy. Having bought once, he bought again and again and then lost count. He just kept on buying. There was no big tyrant to tell him he had enough, that he would be sick, that it was not good for him. He knew it was good for him because he liked its sweet coldness and he knew he had not had enough because he could still eat more and he knew it would not make him sick because he had not yet spent all his money. So he bought more ice cream.

When he got to Oakland he decided that he would see what the old town looked like anyway. He just followed the crowd. The particular crowd went to the beaches. He liked the pretty, shining water and the warm sand. Besides they sold ice cream here, too. So he bought some more ice cream, carefully in five cents' worth at a time. But many times. There was nothing that Oliver wanted to do that he did not do. It was a sumptuous time. He was doing what he and the fellows had always planned they would do when they grew up to be men. He did not have a wait. He was only 10 but he believed in fairies if he got busy and made fairy story himself.

MORE ICE CREAM.

Where the fine, young dreamer spent last night is not yet told. The only reliable fact is that he consumed more ice cream. This morning he breezed into San Francisco aboard the Lark with a marvelous scheme of "doing" San Francisco. He had it all figured out that if Oakland venders offered so much ice cream, the great, mystic city across the bay must be a much nicer place. He counted his money. He still had $4.18. It takes childhood to master the problem of the high cost of living. Every cent spent had brought its full value.

But all good things have an end. Oliver Paulstine's riotous time met its Waterloo. A blue coat asked him a lot of foolish questions and took him away, where they make children obey and call them runaways and give them bread and milk instead of ice cream and send them home finally after they have made them cry. Grown-ups, according to Oliver, are silly and a nuisance.

But Oliver will not cry even if he does have to go back to Sacramento. He still can smile. Does not $5.82 buy 116 cornucopias with two cents over for candy sticks? Nobody asks a man of 10 to pay car fare. The glow of those 116 cornucopias and the two sticks of candy remain.

Only the little girl in Sacramento will not speak to Oliver when he gets back. He would not take her with him. He would rather bear the disgrace alone than share his feast. Oliver is just boy.
